Saudi Arabia says Israel has a right to homeland

KPs deserve a similar declaration

Followers of the faiths of Judaism and Islam have had embittered relationship for over a millennium. Yet, Saudi Arabia, the cradle of Islam, is, today, supporting the idea that Jews, also, should have a territory which they claim to be theirs. Crown Prince and de facto leader of Saudi Arabia Mohammad bin Salman has said that Israel has a right to a homeland. This is an extraordinary shift in the kingdom's centuries' old position. The two countries have no formal diplomatic relations; but, behind the scenes, improvement in their relations has increased in recent years. Both the countries see Iran as their biggest threat and the United States as their key ally. Both see danger from armed extremists.

For a long time, Israel's conflict with the Palestinians has proved an obstacle to complete rapprochement. However, Saudi Arabia supports their claim to sovereignty. At the same time, now, the Crown Prince appears to put rival land claims on equal footing. Asked if the Jewish people have a right to a nation-state, he said: "I believe that each people, anywhere, has a right to live in their peaceful nation. I believe the Palestinians and Israelis have the right to have their own land."

This change of attitude is taking place because the process of thinking is undergoing a change for the better. Poet Iqbal says: Sabaat ik tagayur ko hai zamaane main. That is: If there is anything that can be treated as permanent on our globe, it is the process of change. The same idea was enunciated by Buddha when he said: Anything that goes up, one day comes down. The world has witnessed many a civilization; yet there is little existence of a civilisation which is more than 10,000 years' old.

If a society wants to progress it should have the sagacity of changing according to new circumstances. Longfellow said long ago: Old order changeth, yielding place to new. And God fulfills himself in many different ways, Lest one good custom should corrupt the world. Our globe has produced a highly rational thinker in the person of Plato, who declared: "Let us go where reason leads us". Yet, if he were born today, he would have to adjust to a new situation. That is because what he said in the third century B.C. pertained to Greece which had towns with a population of ten thousand, or less.

With the passage of time, creeks developed even in established religions. Christianity got divided into Catholics, Protestants and Puritans. Hinduism gave birth to new ways of worshipping propounded by the founders of new systems like that of Arya Samaj and Brahmo Samaj. In theory, Islam preached that Muslims should consider themselves as brothers. Yet differences cropped between Sunnis and Shias. Ahmediyas were declared to be non-Muslims in Pakistan. Jewish Israel and Sunni Saudi Arabia want to cooperate to oppose the policies undertaken by Iran, another neighbouring Muslim country. The ISIS says that Khilafat leadership should not remain with Saudi Arabia but should get transferred to the ISIS set up in Iraq and Syria. In international relations, religion has lost significance. Politics and economics matter more. Pakistan wants to maintain friendship with China, ruled by a kafir regime because its leaders have, compulsorily, to be atheists, but it is unwilling to have good relations with India which allows all citizens to follow the faith of their choice.

When Saudi Arabia is desirous of providing living space to Jews, how we wish that the majority community of Kashmir takes a cue from such changing attitudes. They need to create a united front and call the exiled Kashmiri Pandits to resettle in their homeland in a sense of security and respect. Yet, an atmosphere, opposed to the basic tenets of Kashmiriat, is prospering in Kashmir. One day, when Dr. Farouq Abdullah was the J&K Chief Minister, he addressed the National Conference members of the two Houses of the state legislature, hailing from the valley. He said: We should welcome Kashmiri Pandits back. An important members of his party got up and shouted: Sir, during the years of turmoil, after 1990, the majority community of Kashmir has achieved nothing except driving the KPs away. If you take away that single achievement of ours too, we better join the ranks of the militants and leave the National Conference. After that day, the doctor by qualification and politician by family tradition, never had the courage of saying that KPs should be welcomed back.

Drabu's exit : Have Kashmiri politicians eaten 'forbidden fruit'?

Dear community members,

Namaskar,

In the month of March (last month), two major developments took place in the Kashmir politics. One, Finance Minister of Jammu & Kashmir Haseeb Ahmed Drabu was sacked from the State Cabinet and two, Mohammed Ashraf Sehrai was promoted as the chief of the separatist Tehreek-e-Hurriyat — Syed Ali Shah Geelani's own outfit.

Drabu, a key minister in the state government and one of the known architects of BJP-PDP agenda for alliance along with Naeem Akhtar, Ram Madhav and Dr Jitendra Singh, was shown the door after he made a remark saying Kashmir is not a political issue. I am reproducing the excerpt from his speech where he made this important revelation. "Don't see J&K as a conflict state and as a political issue. It's a society which has social issues right now. We are trying to find our own space. And we are going through a process, which many other countries are going through. It's not like we are the only ones. It's not a political issue as far as I can see. I think we have been barking up the wrong tree talking about for the last 50, 70 years talking about the politics of it, the political situation, how it has never been improved. I think we also seriously need to correct in terms of how it's a society in search for itself."

In a way, he has endorsed what we Kashmiri Pandits have been saying and holding about the Kashmir issue since the day the princely state of Jammu & Kashmir signed the instrument of accession with India. What remains about the K-issue for us like Drabu said rightly are social and security issues. We wanted and want to live with dignity, religious and individual freedoms as guaranteed under constitution, co-create and participate in Kashmir's economy and cultural mainstream like normal citizens. Our rights to live and serve in our ancestral land, our own motherland, have been time and again squashed and our psyche so bruised that most of us couldn't live up to our full potential in the valley.

The Geelani factor, which has been the channel of Pakistan's proxy war through Islamic extremism and terrorism, is here to stay. Despite appointing Ashraf Sehrai, a long time associate and a firm believer of his ideology, in his place as head of his separatist outfit, Geelani himself hasn't faded away and would continue to lead Hurriyat (G) separatist conglomerate. For us, this development means that the Geelani era, views and separatist action plans, would continue to radicalize Kashmiri society.

In the hindsight, it is my view that the separatist politics, including soft separatism, is a thriving industry in the Kashmir valley and the way a pragmatic voice like that of Drabu, the blue-eyed boy of late Mufti Mohd Sayeed, was miffed and not allowed to go for a debate, normalization prospects in Kashmir are bleak. Our psychological distance to our home return has not lessened. However, we, at Kashmiri Samiti Delhi, would continue to advocate and lobby for our rights and the rightful place in Kashmir, be assured!

On March 21, we lost a brave heart, SGC Deepak (Deepu) Thusoo while fighting terrorists in ther Kupwara forests. His supreme sacrifice for upholding national security of India makes us very proud. However, at the same time, our heart goes out to the bereaved family, especially the two young children, he left behind. On behalf of Kashmiri Samiti Delhi, we have made it known that we stand with the family, wherever needed, we'll always support it. We also urge the Government to bestow gallantry police medal on late Deepu Thusoo, which, in a way, will be recognition for the whole of the KP community.

Also, our Hon'ble Chief Minister, Ms Mehbooba Mufti, on 31st March, came to Delhi and interacted with some of the community members. While we welcome any outreach by Central or State Government to our community and as one of the oldest and elected representative of KPs in Delhi, would support such initiatives, it was disappointing on the part of our CM not to spell any concrete roadmap on our fundamental demands including return and rehabilitation. Her suggestion that we should visit as tourists was in bad taste even though we fully support KP children going on education and heritage tours in Kashmir. This is something, which had been done in the past but needs sincere recasting. I would like to remind our Hon'be Chief Minister that she is welcome to come and meet us like her father late Mufti Mohd. Sayeed came to Kashmiri Samiti several years ago.

As stakeholders to normalcy in Kashmir we are as much interested as any normal Kashmiri is. You said Kashmir is incomplete without Kashmiri Pandits, let's see some sincerity through deeds.

Kashmir Bhawan Calling

Dear respected members,

Namaskar,

Kashmiri Samiti Delhi wishes a Happy New Year to all of you — the community/baradri members — on the occasion of Navreh!

We wish you a prosperous, healthy and peaceful year ahead. The nine days of Navratri Pooja hopefully would have gone well with the blessings of Divine Mother; and I am sure you had celebrated it religiously with a lot of spirtual bliss and prayers.

On a happoy note, like always, KP organizations across Delhi and NCR celebrated Zangtrai, the day when our daughters visit their parental houses and return with gifts to their homes.

The annual examination of our children is going on and we wish a great success to the wards of all our biradari members with flying colours.The admission to the higher classes, universities is also in the offing and the parents are requested to keep eye on the "admission alert" which is printed in the "Koshur Samachar". The parents are also advised to send the resume of their wards who secured above 85% marks in the finals for publication in the Koshur Samachar as "Bright Stars". The resume should carry the marks sheet and a passport-size photograph of the ward.

Hawans

It has been a practice that the different organizations have been performing Hawans in their respective areas for the betterment of the community and its prosperity. Very recently a Hawan was performed at Satisar Co-op Group of Society at Dwarka, Sector-7, wherein the President Shri Vijay Raina and Shri Manoj Bindroo, Vice-President and the undersigned participated. A large number of community members were present at the venue. Performing of Hawans by the organizations from the areas where the maximum population of Kashmiri Pandits lives gives a boost and one feels that we are still carrying on with our old rituals and have not forgotten our culture. Chanting of Bhajans and Sholokas change the entire atmosphere where the Hawan is performed and it seems that we still have not left our homes and hearths.

Thanks for joining KSD demonstration

Kashmiri Samiti Delhi feels pleasure in thanking the community for joining the demonstration and has shown its might and unity that we can fight any problem which is faced by us or thrown on us. It is an old saying that might is right and united we stand, divided we fall. I thank all the organizations in Delhi and NCR for their participation. Their participation made the programme a success and the goal was achieved. I pray the community to be united and be always ready for such occasions and show more presence so that the community could prove its existence.

KSD General Body Meeting
Kashmiri Samiti Delhi (Regd.) carries its legacy and the Constitutional binding that Annual General Body Meeting has to be conducted every year. The General Secretary presents the annual report to the community and the life members of the organization on its progress done during the year and income and expenditure incurred. The same is presented before the Hon'ble Members and they are clearing issue directions for future if need be. A tentative date has been fixed for 27th May 2018 (Sunday) at 3 pm, confirmation regarding the dates shall be informed well in time. I wish that every life member takes part in AGM on the day which is exclusively meant for the life members.

AMR

It may not be out of place to mention here that since our struggle for release of AMR the relief holders might have received their arrears from January to March 2018. I again plead before the community that if any relief holder has not submitted his Affidavit, s/he may submit it on a war footing at their respective Districts without wasting further time.

Digitalization of Koshur Samachar

It has time and again been discussed in the various meetings about the digitalization of Koshur Samchar. The process is in final stages and the final decision shall be let known very soon.

Separatists seek India's complete destruction

-Arun Joshi

Srinagar, April 3: Kashmir's narrative has made a grand shift from "azadi" or freedom to the "complete destruction of India".

The slogan of "azaadi", that characterised the essence of Kashmir insurgency in the 1990s, now serves as a thin veil for the real objective of militants, their supporters in the Valley — to work for the annihilation of India.

On Saturday evening, groups of youth, while strolling at Boulevard, chanted "Jung ladenge Hindustan ki barbadi tak" (We will fight till India is destroyed.). They were loud enough to be heard by the domestic tourists, who looked at the boys with a mixed look of surprise and shock.

This narrative has been borrowed from Pakistan's state and non-state actors, who swear that they will wipe out India out of the world map. Hafiz Saeed's words echo not only in the privacy of homes but also in the streets of Kashmir. That is the new grim reality of Kashmir.

Pakistan has seized the mindset of Kashmiri youth, who were born and brought up during what is modestly called "turmoil." Pakistan and its agents in Kashmir — militants and over-ground workers — have taken full advantage of the fact that these youth, born in the late eighties to early 2000s, have seen no semblance of normalcy, peace and order and the good side of India.

For them, every Indian soldier is their enemy. They are watching the multiplication of guns and expansion of graveyards and they blame the whole thing on India - something that Pakistan makes them believe through its sheer propaganda and exploitation of some ugly situations — like the one that took place on April 1, when the killing of 13 militants, four civilian protesters and three soldiers darkened the mood across the Valley.

Local youth joining militancy — some poorly trained and others hardened fighters — has become a major area of concern. This is becoming the story of guns versus guns in each and every encounter and its narrative travels far beyond the encounter sites and the law-and-order situation. When hospitals are flooded with the injured, some of them with pellets in their eyes, it becomes a toxic anti-India narrative flared by a mix of fact and fiction, relayed by the social media and propaganda machinery of Pakistan.

These propagators work 24x7. And, they succeed because the frustrated and angry youth, after each killing, find the political apparatus missing. There are some soothing tweets, which have no meaning when the Internet is down during and after the encounters, like it happened on Sunday and Monday. These soothing messages in the cyber world are no substitute to the interaction on the ground. The political leaders have cocooned themselves in their homes and communicate through tweets.

The Kashmiri youth is angry at the corruption in the system, they think their degrees and skills have been rejected in favour of the political activists and the moneyed people. They find that there is no alternative left before them and they have started picking up guns. They target soldiers because they are visible. The rest of the institutions have either collapsed or given in to the dictates of the disruptionists like separatists, who see their shutdown calls as a panacea, and the government obliges them by shutting all the institutions.

This is giving birth to the narrative of destruction of India. There is no realisation that this vow to destroy India is harming them too.

The local militants — for whom the civilian protesters are risking their lives by marching to the encounter sites — have not asked a single question about the abduction and killing of a youth from Hajn, Bandipora, last night, and inflicting near fatal injuries on two women. Weren't they Kashmiris? ■

Shrine Board in Kashmir

Will be a desired community institution

—B.L. Saraf

Chief Minister Mehbooba Mufti, while addressing religious scholars, Imams of Masjids and executives of the J&K Wakf Board, in Srinagar the other day, urged Imams to stop preaching Jihad In Masjids and emphasized that "there are no short cuts to paradise. Picking up gun won't take any one to paradise. Paraduise lies beneath the feet of parents." She appealed to the religious scholars "to lead the society in getting it out of the difficult issues by showing the right path as has been ordained."

Well said, madam CM. It is now for those who wield influence in the field to listen and carry forward this message in a proper direction so that the dance of death and mayhem, we witness daily in the streets of Kashmir, comes to an end. Any way, we leave this matter to the other day. Miss Mehbooba said something more on the occasion which, we believe, should be of great interest to the displaced Hindu community of Kashmir.

The Chief Minister termed the Wakf Board as a community institution which needs to be developed on the most modern lines with the use of technology. She said many projects of the massive community help are under consideration of the Wakf Board which will be of great help to humanit y." She went on to say that if the assets of the Muslim Wakf Board are properly maintained, it can generate enough resources to fund many big community welfare initiatives. Mehbooba told the audience that it was the PDP Government that, in 2005, carved out two universities and a nursing college out of the Wakf resources which have now prospered as leading institutions in the State.

Hindus, living in Kashmir, have been yearning for a statutory architecture, like the Wakf Board and the Gurdhwara Pranbhnadhak Committees, to take care of their religious places in the Valley and utilize their properties and resources for the benefit of society in the manner the CM has indicated Wakf properties have been used, like spreading education etc. It is for this reason there is the need for a Law for protection, management and care of Shrines and Temples in Kashmir. Though there are other reasons, also, the main being the one which Aims and Objects of the lapsed Bill, 11/ 2009, have brought out, rather, succinctly.

The Government emphasized the necessity of the Bill, inter alia, thus: "Due to the disturbed conditions in the Kashmir Valley in year 1990, the majority of Hindus left the Valley and the Shrines remained unattended. There are complaints that properties of these Shrines have been encroached and most of them are in dilapidated conditions. Many associations and bodies of the community have shown concern in this behalf."

The plight of Shrines and temples is really bad in Kashmir. There is well-documented record how the unscrupulous have plundered their properties. The undesirable activity goes on. It is unfortunate that the role of those who were entrusted with the job of proper management of these Shrines and Temples have left much to be desired. Properties are pilfered. These managers / pujaris have lost confidence of the community which, as rightly put out by the CM , has resulted in "societal decay and erosion of social values in the system."

It is the unanimous demand of the displaced community to have such a law. Nonetheless, a few amongst us have expressed concerns and feel apprehensive of the proposed law. May be they have a point, but, as explained to them , there were sufficient provisions in the lapsed Bill to address genuine concerns. Still, if any one feels more needs to be provided in this regard the issue can be sorted out by mutual interaction and exchange of views. If need arises, more can be proposed in the Law, in addition to what was there in the Bill No. 11/ 2009, to address the concerns. After all, the Hindu Community is guided solely by the desire to save its sign posts of civilization, culture and fait. Therefore, to oppose the enactment of the desired law at the very threshold won't serve purpose of any one. The persistent opposition to the law and any more delay in the enactment will only gladden hearts of land sharks and enemies of the community.

CM Mehbooba must take the lead. We hope she will appreciate the issue in the same spirit and visualize a similar role for Shrines and Temple's property in the Valley as she has seen it for the Wakf properties – to serve society. Shri Mata Vaishnov Devi Shrine Board could be a role model in this regard.

Let a Statutory Shrine and Temples Board in Kashmir be another Community Institution.

Governments, over the period, have been trying to take the displaced back and rehabilitate them in Kashmir. Unfortunately, lack of mutual trust has marked the relationship. So, nothing could move forward. We feel that enactment of a Law for a transparent and democratic management of Hindu Shrines and Temples in Kashmir will, surely, constitute a big CBM in this regard. ■

Farouq is not correct in saying that:

Congress leaders, alone, were responsible for partition

—Ravinder Jalali

On a contentious debate over the Partition of India, former J&K chief minister Farouq Abdullah claimed that it was Pt. Nehru, Sardar Patel and Maulana Abdul Kalam Azad who were responsible for the partition of India and not Muhammad Ali Jinnah, the founder of Pakistan. Dr. Abdullah said that it was the refusal of the three Congress leaders to accept minority status for the Muslims which led to the partition of India, which is not the whole truth. He further said that there would have been no separation. There would have been one India. The debate over who were responsible for the partition, which led to the creation of the dominions of India and Pakistan, has been raging on for many years now.

If we go into deeper dimension of the partition, which includes the role of the Muslim League as well as Congress, it will not be fair to blame squarely Congress for partition but for obvious reasons Muslim League as well as the British were responsible for it. Although Britain has no stake in the partition because of being outsiders and knowing that it hardly matters for them because they are the outsiders and are not going to settle in India but for the Muslim League and Jinnah it was a bounty with power and money.

"It was also observed that Pt. Nehru and Patel decided to get on with it quickly. Some of the writers are of the opinion that Nehru, with Mahatma Gandhi's support, even tried in May, 1947, to get the British to hand over India in June, 1947. In Jaswant's book "Jinnah: India, Partition, Independence" he mentioned that that it was Nehru's centralised policy which forced Jinnah to seek a separate homeland for Indian Muslims. But there seems to be sense to have centralised policy for the whole of India. Otherwise it can be knitted loosely to avoid its further erosion in its consolidation.

Does it mean that Jinnah cannot be held responsible for partition? Absolutely, No. It was he (Jinnah) who sowed the seed of partition on the basis of religion and he is the main culprit. The letter of Jinnah to Gandhi dated September 17, 1944, is a testimony to it which reads as:

"Muslims and Hindus are two major nations by any definition or test of a nation. We are a nation of a hundred million, we are a nation with our own distinctive culture and civilization, language and literature, art and architecture, names and nomenclature, legal laws and moral codes, customs and calendar, history and traditions, aptitudes and ambitions — in short we have our own distinctive outlook on life and of life. By all cannons of international law we are a nation."

The demand for Pakistan was based on the homeland concept. It was meant to be a separate homeland for protecting the Muslims. It is here pertinent to mention that neither Jinnah nor any resolution of the Muslim League ever suggested that a separate state was needed because Islam was in danger. However, some Muslim League leaders made religion-oriented speeches in the per-independence period and Islamic slogans were raised by the Muslim League in order to build support for itself in the 1946 provincial elections.

The role and responsibility of Congress in the creation of Pakistan, a country founded on the idea of religious identity of Muslims, is, also, of great significance and cannot be ignored. It seems quite logical to infer that it is the Congress which can also be held responsible for the creation of Pakistan on the basis of the fact that when the Congress claims itself as a champion of the freedom struggle and the main architect of the Indian independence, it should claim itself as the cause of creating Pakistan. Pakistan is a bye-product of gaining India's Independence.

If we go through one of the videos of former Justice of Pakistan Supreme Court and son of poet Iqbal, Dr. Javed Iqbal who clearly states that that Muslims are not capable of creating a nation. If we go by the Cabinet Mission Plan there was a concept of Autonomy within the Indian union which Jinnah also accepted.

If today somebody is raising a demand for freedom or autonomy or something, it does not mean that he will get it unless it is given to them and it is the giver who is responsible for it. If in today's scenario, e.g. some separatists are demanding freedom, does it mean that we should give it? When slogans in JNU are raised which are anti-Indian or the demands are anti-national, but we do not accede to their demands. Similarly, some separatists in Kashmir, backed by Pakistan, are demanding cessation or freedom from India, does it mean that we should grant them what they want. No. Then how demand of Muslim League for the creation of Pakistan for Muslims could be granted? Who acceded to their request? Now it will be argued that the British are responsible for dividing India, but why Congress accepted the two-nation theory on the basis of religion. It simply means that they negotiated and compromised the freedom of India by giving a portion of India to Pakistan.

If Muslims succeeded in getting their Pakistan where they feel free to practice Islam and will be a Islamic country governed by Islamic rules, what about the other faiths? Then obviously the areas other than Pakistan should have been for the rest of the faiths only, which is not. It was the Hindu Mahasabha, an organisation of Hindus, which vehemently opposed the creation Of Pakistan on the basis of religion.

The Congress cannot absolve itself by saying that it was the British who divided India but then why they accepted the freedom? We cannot say that the Congress has achieved or fought for freedom, but was offered by British on the condition that the country will be divided between Muslims and Hindus. We could have continued with our fight for freedom for the whole of India, for more time. The Congress cannot take a plea that it would have taken longer period or the country could not have got freedom so early. It seems that the Congress was eager to get power rather than the freedom of the country. Had they been fighting sincerely for freedom of their mother land, they would not have accepted the partition, no matter what Jinnah or Muslim league would have demanded, if we go through the events of history and the freedom struggle

Those who say that the Muslim League fought for the independence of India are not correct. They never fought for independence but for Islam and the caliphate. It was during the popular Khilafat movement in Turkey for retaining the caliphate, protests emerged across the Muslim world. The most prominent activities took place in India and Muslims supported for the caliphate. To its founders and followers, the Khilafat was not a religious movement but rather a show of solidarity with their fellow Muslims in Turkey. They aimed at building political unity among Muslims and use their influence to protect the caliphate. In 1920, they called upon the British to protect the caliphate and for Indian Muslims to unite and hold the British accountable for this purpose.

After the victory of Mustafa Kemal's forces, which overthrew the Ottoman rule to establish a secular republic in independent Turkey and abolished the role of Caliph and sought no help from Indians, the Khilafat leadership fragmented on different political lines. They played a major role in the growth of the Muslim League's popular appeal and the subsequent Pakistan movement. ■

Mohd. Akbar Lone's outburst was emotional

—Surinder Kaul

Mehjoor, the romantic Kashmiri poet-laureate of the revolutionary days, forecasted the political predilection of the majority population of Kashmiris in the words: "zuv haa wandaha Hindustanas, ama dil adi Paekistanas seet" (I want to die for India, but my heart is with Pakistan). This is being vindicated in the J&K Assembly by showcasing anti-India, pro-self-determination, pro-secessionist utterance in a fit of emotions by some of the elected representatives across the party lines intermittently.

Whether, it is engineer Abdul Rashid, independent MLA from Langate, who stands for the UN resolution against the Indian administration in Kashmir, or his flaunting beef dishes in the premises of the J&K Assembly, or tagging Syed Salaudddin, HM chief, noted terrorist, Hakeem Yassin, PDP MLAs, the posture of international settlement of "Kashmir", or Ajaj Ahmed Mir, PDP MLAs the position regarding the slain militants being called martyrs – all are sailing in the same boat.

Shouting of Pakistan Zindabad slogan by Mohd. Akbar Lone, former Speaker, of the Assembly and ex cabinet minister under Omar Aabdullah's chiefministership, and currently, MLA of national Conference, a mainstream political party of the state, in the Assembly, was a treacherous act. Over and above his audacity to challenge the authority of the state and its constitution to which he is bound by the oath of loyalty and secrecy, it, further, affirms his scale of betrayal. The liberal brigade and the Left- oriented parties, in mainland India, which are in easy search for such anti-India outbursts, would not hesitate to shout from minarets that it is the freedom of expression in democracy, just to shield them, to bring them under the gloss of ideological canopy.

Here, Mohd. Akbar Lone had committed treason in an august house which passes laws for the welfare and economic development of the people to maintain equality, protection of life and property, irrespective of caste, colour or religion. So he should have applied his mind before spelling rotten beans in fit of anger and frustration. Today, a question mark is put before his loyalty? From the religious point of view it is a sin to deceive one's own nation which is the home and hearth for each one. He had been drawing his salary, and other perks and benefits drawn from the Indian exchequer, but not realizing the repercussions of what he did – yell pro-Pak slogan. Jjunaid Mattoo, National Conference, spokesman, in his usual style, came out for damage control, while other members like Mohd Shafi Uri (NC), Mohd Yusuf Tarigami (CPM), in the Assembly, tried to mellow down the causticity of the slogan.

The leadership of the NC party distanced itself and BJP representatives raised their objections but none of them registered a case or any PIL against Mohd. Akbar Lone for his act of violation of the Indian Constitution.

Looking back at Mohd. Akbar Lone's rise in the political sphere, he had a humble beginning from the agriculture background, hailing from the Naidkhai village in Tehsil Sumbal Sonawari; once a flood-prone belt, which was built as model township by late Bakshi Ghulam Mohd. In the late fifties. Mohd. Akbar Lone was upcoming, extrovert and progressive in attitude who started his career as a lawyer in the tehsil court of Sumbal Sonawari soon after his law graduation. Close on his heels, he was offered mandate by the Janta Party to contest elections from the Sumbal Sonawar constituency in 1977, which he lost. In the following year, 1978, the late A.G.Lone, an innovative, skilful and sagacious politician, smarter than his contemporaries, hooked up Mohd Akbar Lone, Muzaffer Hussain Beigh, Bashir Khan and many brilliant young educated Muslim youths from Baramulla and Kupwara districts for People's Conference which he floated after getting disgruntled with the politicking behaviour of the Congress and the NC in the valley. Mohd Akbar Lone fought another election in 1983 on the People's Conference ticket from his native constituency but was declared unsuccessful along with other party candidates who too had lost except for Late A.G. Lone, a winning candidate from the Handawara Assembly segment. In furtherance of his political career, Akbar Lone chose to join National Conference in 1987 wherefrom his political graph ascended unstopped till date.

A question arises here, what forced Akbar Lone to make such a controversial slogan in the august body? It seems either pro-Pakistan sentiment among the public has gone so deep that he had to nurture his constituency or he, too, has got adicalized beyond control and in that desperation, he raised such a fissiparous, outrageous cry. Did he not introspect that by these fetid political postures, adopted by the political class in Kashmir, they are subverting and setting astray the minds of the young generation in the valley? Politically, he has not made any big leap forward but has come in the notice of Pakistan masters to carry their staff of political alternative of their choice.

Mohd Akbar Lone, the elected representative of National Conference, is not at fault because he has imbibed the character of controversies, double speak from his party bigwigs. His schooling in the Muslim Conference, from 1931 to 1939, can't be undone from the preamble of the party which was exclusively communal against the Dogra rule. The first seed of secession was sown by late Shiekh Mohd. Abdullah after he was dethroned as PM of the state in 1953 for hobnobbing with the US to carve out his own sultanate in the valley. Sheikh Abdullah's slogan of the Plebiscite Front, misled the people and poisoned the minds of Kashmiris against India. Eventually, it gave birth to many secessionist youth groups , cells thus resulted into indulgence of violence at the low ebb in the valley. Such groups had the tacit support of Late Mirza Afzal Beg who used to carry rock salt in his pocket to allure voters by flaunting it in public gatherings. Beg was the right hand of Shiekh Abdullah who had whimsical and wobbling mind on most of the state affairs as he inwardly look on them from the religious angle. As a revengeful person, he did not permit the burial space to Late Bakshi Ghulam Mohd, at the Shahi Hamdan graveyard. He was the leader responsible for the economic and educational development in the state. Abdullah's three generations ruled the state after the late Shiekh was reincarnated on the culmination of Beg–Parthasarthy accord as CM. Dr Farouq, too, followed his father's footstep of double talk to keep his constituency intact, whether in power or out of power. Since out of power, he, with vengeance, defended stone throwers of the valley who, according to him, were sacrificing for the resolution of the Kashmir issue. He suggested APHC to get united in the struggle and wanted third-party intervention for the solution of the issue.

So, the whole party is caught in its own contradictions and flickering policy with the result it is pushing Kashmir to further uncertainty. ■

KPs Celebrate Navreh as Navarsotsava

—Sunil Raina Rajanaka

Navavarsha is also known as Navreh among Kashmiri Hindus since Vedic times and is being celebrated with spiritual interest and exuberance. 'Navreh', which is the first day of the Saptrishi&VikramSamvitas, and also the first day of the spring, coincides with Chaitra Shukla Paksha 'Navratras'. The litany of details is given in Bringesh Samhita and Nilmata Purana, the two ancient scriptures which emphasize the customs and rituals prevailing in Kashmir since ancient times.

In Bringesh Samhita a full chapter for Navreh celebrations is dedicated which is also known as Navarsotsava. The chapter mentions the dialogue between Shiva and Parvati, where Devi is keen to understand the importance of Time, cycle of evolution and dissolution. Shiva reveals that on Navreh one should worship creator Brahma who initiated the creation of this day with the first rays of the Sun shining on the world. Also worshipping five-faced Shiva, presiding deity of the family, along with Ganesh and Saraswati, brings spiritual merit and well-being. Shiva also divulges that one should wear new clothes, enjoy dance, pander in music and sports as this is the beginning of Kaal (Time) and that of the world. Kashmiri Hindus follow these rituals since ages, besides following injunction of looking at the plate full of assortment known in local parlance as "Thal Barun".

Important custom of Thal Barun

On the eve of Navreh, an elderly lady of the household fills a big plate with unhusked rice. In this plate, various items like walnuts, bread, some cooked rice, a pen, a book, a bowl of curd, a few coins, gold ornament, salt, seasonal flowers, a piece of medicinal herb called 'Vai' or Acorus Calamus, and a mirror are arranged. The yearly almanac and a picture of the presiding deity, known as 'Kreel-Pach' find a prominent display in this rice-filled plate. Early in the morning of Navreh, well before sunrise, a female member of the family, usually a daughter, makes each and every member of the family have a look at this plate in their respective rooms. This ritual is known as 'Buth-Vuchun'. The ritual of looking at the plate is said to bring good luck, good health, prosperity, wisdom, and fulfillment of wishes for the entire family. After this look at the plate, every elder member of the family puts some money in it, which is then taken by the girl as a pocket money.

Significance of items on the plate

Rice, the principle diet of Kashmiris, is a symbol of wealth and expansion. Cooked rice is a symbol of transformation and progression in life. It is considered a 'prasad' besides being the source of survival, signifying physical and mental growth. Curd is a symbolic representation for completeness, constancy and cohesiveness. Bread is a symbolic representation for engagement and amalgamation in one's socio-cultural surrounding.

Walnuts indicate human and universal mind conjoined and four kernels of it represent the four purususharthas or what the Hindus consider to be the four objects or goals of existence – Dharma, (discharge of duty), Artha (acquirement of wealth), Kama (gratification of desire) and Moksha (final emancipation). A coin represents affluence and material strength. The gold ornament is a symbol of purity and is considered auspicious. The medicinal herb indicates disease-free life and good health.

Flowers represent optimism, fragrance and sympathy in life. These are associated with the human life as no celebration is complete without these.

Flowers are also symbols for the ephemera of life. The pen is the symbol of wisdom, self-illumination, learning and brilliance. These strive for the power of knowledge and eradication of illiteracy. Salt, which is part of our day-to-day life, is to generate positive energy and also strive humans to develop a sense of Rasa in life. The almanac represents the influence of Time and that of planetary events in our life and, therefore, all activities are time-bound which underlines that Time should be respected and discipline should be followed in life. Pictorial representation in local arts, with a picture of the clan Devi, is indicative of the spiritual merit so as to achieve religious inclination and trust in Her grace. Mirror, due to its attribute of reflection, stands for multiplication of auspiciousness.

People take a look at the yearly almanac and listen to the forecast made therein regarding the astrological configuration and auspicious dates concerning them. People used to go to Hari Parvat in Srinagar and pay their obeisance to Goddess Chakreshwari reciting hymns and praying for a prosperous year as it is believed that Saptarishis assembled at this place praying to the Universal Goddess and thus starting the Saptrishi era.

On return, people gathered for the annual fair at freshly bloomed almond garden where families relished their local savory pakoras of lotus stems, puris and traditional kehwa. Finally, the families visited their near and dear ones wishing them Navreh Mubarak. ■

Navreh

—Loveanya Trisal

The first day of Chetra shukla paksha is celebrated as the start of Chetra navratra throughout the country by the Hindu's in different socio religious groups. Amongl these Hindu communities one community, known as Kashmiri Pandits, who are now in exile, used to celebrate this day as their New year's day, commonly known in their local dialect as Navreh because they believe in the Sapta Rishi calendar which,on 01~01~5094, this day, this year, corresponded to 5th Chetra 2075 Bikrimi which starts on 12th/13th of April every year and 18~03~2018 AD, which starts on 1st January, every year.

The calendar year of Sapta Rishi, itself, reveals how old Kashmiri Pandits' existence is.

This write up is to remind the community brothers/ sisters and the new generation of the brotherhood as to how we used to celebrate our festivals in Kashmir the Valley before we were forced to leave our homes and hearths due to Islamic fundamentalism.

The preparation for the event (Navreh) starts with the previous night with a preparation known as "THAAL BARUN".

Thal Barun

A thali (metal plate, preferably of bronze) is filled to the top with rice on which is placed the new panchang (almanac), a lump of cooked rice, curd in a small bowl, bread, salt, a pen with ink pot, fresh flowers, a coin, a mirror, a photograph of the chosen deity and some walnuts. Wye, a herb, also, was placed but now it is not available. All this is covered with a cloth or another thali for the night.

On the morning of Navreh (first day of Chetra Shukal Paksha) an unmarried daughter of the family or, in her absence, any lady of the house carries this thali to all members, even to their beds to enable them to have a look at it as the first object in the morning, which is considered auspicious. The girl/lady, who carries it, is given blessings and presents in cash or kind.

It is a tradition which symbolizes prosperity for the coming year.

In Kashmir, the male members use to go to the river bank early in the morning to have a bath. They would carry the walnuts placed over the thali and offer these to Gods in the river, which were being picked by the waiting boatmen. The rice kept in the thali was used for making "tehar" which is later eaten by the family members.

Tehar

It is a tradition among Kashmiri Pandits to prepare tehar on festivals, which is offered as Naveed (Prashad). It is prepared by adding turmeric powder to rice while boiling. Later, salt and melted ghee ares mixed with it.

Further, if weather permitted,Srinagar residents used to go for a round of Hari Parbat to offer pooja at various temples and also have a picnic there as there used to be almond trees in their early blossom in pink colours at this time of the year. Now, the trees of "badamwari" have gone and only the remembrance associated with the festival is there.

It is considered auspicious to wear new or freshly-washed clothes on the eve. A new born baby or a new bride in the family is an object of attention, who is showered the blessings by the elders of the family.

For newly-married girls it is a tradition to go to their parent's house before the day and return to in-laws in time to join the festivities. They used to carry some curd and cash from her parent's house as a good omen (Shagun).

Third day of these Navratras is celebrated as zanga trai. On this day, ladies of the family go to visit their parents or brothers and return the same day. If weather permits one may go for a picnic to some garden or even a temple along with the family members. This festival brings joy and happiness after a long chilling winter.

I am of the opinion that now some of these traditions of Kashmir have died but if our community has to survive these tradition have to be revived according to the place where the family is in exile by organizing get-togethers, monthly meetings and personal contacts with Baradari members. ■

Navreh — New Year Day of Kashmiri Hindus

Festivals are windows to our culture

—Nana Ji Sathoo

'Navreh, the first day of the Saptrishi Samvat of the lunar year, marks the start of the New Year for Kashmiri Pandits. It is also the first day of Basant or spring and 'Navratras'. It proclaims the advent of the spring season, 'Sonth' in Kashmir.

The festival of the New Year is celebrated on Chaitra Shukla Paksh Pratipadha, the first day of the bright fortnight of Chaitra (March-April).'Ffor Kashmiri Pandits it reflects their age-old social, ethnic, cultural and religious ethos and ushers them into the freshness of the new year.

The momentous festival' finds a special mention in the 'BrahmaPurana'. According to it, the whole universe was created by Lord Brahma on the first day of Chaitra Shukla Paksh Pratipadha, i.e. day of 'Navreh'. As per the 'Matsya Purana', one of the 18 Puranas of Hindus, Lord Vishnu, the God of preservation among the Trinity ,is believed to have incarnated, as 'Matsya' avatar on the earth on the day of 'Navreh'. The festival also signifies the start of 'Satya Yug', the first of the four golden eras of Hindus.

The day has historical significance as it signals the initiation of the 'Vikram Samvat' to commemorate and memorialize the victory and triumph of the famous king of the golden era of Indian history, Chandra Gupt Maurya, over 'Shakas'. It is the day when the new almanac, an annual calendar of months and days with astronomical data and other related information, starts for the new Hindu calendar year.

The day heralds the arrival of the beautiful season of spring when fresh life becomes evident from fields to forests with new foliage, blossoms and riot of colours in the form of flowers making their presence felt everywhere. Yamberzal, or Narcissus poeticus, having white coloured petals and yellow stamens, is a beautiful and sweet scented flower, which is frequently spotted from meadows and gardens. It is one of the early flowers, which announces the arrival of 'Sonth' in Kashmir. Similarly, the appealing flowers of Primula Rosea, Primulla elliptical and Primula denticulata also make their appearance immediately after the snow melts in Kashmir.

Likewise, the early migratory birds of 'Phembaseer' (Paradise Flycatcher), 'Poshanool' (Golden Oriole), 'Kukil' (Ring-Dove), 'Katij' (common swallow), 'Tsini Hangur (Himalayan Sterling) and 'Sheenapipin', or Doeb-Bai (Pied-Wagtail), also proclaim the advent of 'Sonth' in Kashmir through their melodious notes.

As such, the festival is a celebration of change of season, regeneration and fertility, a journey from cold to warmth, an escape from winter confinement to social communion and a beginning for new lease of life everywhere.

The celebration of this joyous day in the medieval times also finds mention in 'Kitabul Hind', a book written by a renowned foreign voyager Al Beruni. According to him, the month of Chaitra denotes festivities for the natives of Kashmir on account of the victory gained by an ancient Kashmiri King Muttai over the Turks. In the words of the celebrated historian Srivara, the Chaitra festival, in ancient times, in Kashmir, was laced with enthusiasm and fervour to the accompaniment of lighting and merriment everywhere.

It, also, marks the time to bid 'adieu' to harsh and severe winter and welcome the season of spring when multitude generosity of Nature is visible everywhere. The display of new life in nature and invigorating ambience arouses hope and inspiration even in most brazen hearts.

Prior to the festival of 'Navreh', the family priest known as 'Kula Brahman' brings to Kashmiri Pandit family the almanac of the New Year, known as 'Jantari or Panchang or 'Neshipather'. This Kashmiri. word' is a derivation of Sanskrit word. 'Nakshetra Patri'. The Kula Brahman, also, brings the 'KreelaPach', which is an illustrated scroll usually having a picture of Goddess Saraswati or Goddess Sharika with a hymn in Her praise.

On the night prior to Navreh, an elderly lady of the Pandit household fills a big thali with rice. On this thali, various items like walnuts (in odd numbers usually five or seven), paddy (as per family 'reeth'), a piece of bread (usually 'Kulcha'), a lump of cooked rice, a pen, an inkpot and a book, a Katori, filled with curds, a currency note or a coin or a gold ornament, like ring or a bangle, a pinch of salt, seasonal flowers (usually Yamberzal), a piece of medicinal herb called 'Vai') known by the name of Sweet flag or Acorus Calamus and a mirror are arranged. The 'Nachhipatar or Jantari' and the 'Kreel-Pach' also find a special place in this rice filled thali.

This ritual is known as 'Thaal-barun'. Early in the morning of 'Navreh', well before sunrise, a female member of the family, usually a daughter, makes each and every member of the family have a ' Darshan. ■

Rama Navaratri

—C.L. Gadoo

The word Navaratri originates from Sanskrit, Ratri meaning night and nava meaning nine. Thus the term Navaratri stands for nine nights or bringing in nava or newness to ratri (night), the darkness in our lives. In other words, Navaratri seeks to inspire a spiritual awakening, by ending the darkness of the night and ushering in the new light of understanding.

Navaratri is celebrated five times a year. These are: Vasanta Navaratri, Ashadha Navaratri, Sharada Navaratri, Pausha Navaratri and Magha Navaratri.

Basanta Navaratri, also known as Vasant Navaratri, is the festival of nine days dedicated to the nine forms of Shakti (Mother Goddess) in the spring season (March–April). It is also known as Chaitra Navaratri or Rama Navaratri, the nine-day festival which ends on Rama Navami, Lord Rama's birthday.

Gupt Navaratri, also referred as Ashadha or Gayatri or Shakambhari Navaratri, is nine days dedicated to the nine forms of Shakti (Mother Goddess) in the month of Ashadha (June–July). Gupt Navaratri is observed during the Ashadha Shukla Paksha (waxing of moon).

Sharada Navaratri is the most important of the Navaratris known as Maha Navaratri and is celebrated in the month of Ashvina. Also known as Sharada Navaratri, as it is celebrated after Sharada Pakash (beginning of winter, September–October).

Pausha Navaratri is nine days dedicated to the nine forms of Shakti (Mother Goddess) in the month of Pausha (December–January). Pausha Navaratri is observed during the Pausha Shukla Paksha (waxing phase of moon).

Magha Navaratri, also referred as Gupt Navaratri, is nine days dedicated to the nine forms of Shakti (Mother Goddess) in the month of Magha (January–February). Magha Navaratri is observed during the Magha Shukla Paksha.

Popularly, Navratra is celebrated twice a year. First Navratra is from Pratipada of the Chaitra month to Navami and the second is exactly after six months in Pratipada of Ashwin Shukla Paksha to a day before Vijayadashami. The Chaitra or Rama Navratri in March-April, and Sharada Navaratri also known as Mahanavaratri in the month of Asvin: September - October.

Vasanta or Chaitra or Rama Navaratri, which is observed during the Shukla Paksha of Chaitra, is mostly observed in northern India and western India. The celebration marks the start of the Hindu New Year as per the Luna-solar calendar. Kashmiri Hindus observe it as Navreh, Maharastrians celebrate is as Gudi Padwa while in Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Karnataka Hindus celebrate it as Ugadi. Rama Navratri ends with Lord Rama's auspicious Appearance day, while Mahanavratri ends with Dusshera. This is the day of Sri Rama's supreme victory over the most powerful, highly intelligent but deviant king Ravana, who embodied ultimate oppression and evil. ■

Looking at the future of KPs

–Maharaj Kaul

Kashmiri Pandits's civilizational pinnacle receded several hundred years ago. Their glory has been especially in steady decline since the advent of Sultanate in 1339. As they became a minority after volitional and forced conversion to Islam, their life became one long road of survival, even though they were still prized for their intellectual powers in high government circles. This psychology of survival became a permanent feature of their personality. They became individuals first and community members later. An outline chronology of Kashmir history has been attached as a ready reference.

Some Kashmiri Pandits (KPs) were shocked in 2014 by the withdrawal of the Modi government's project of creating three composite cities in Kashmir to rehabilitate them. Some wonder what their future is going to be. But here is the irony: Even if Modi plan had been implemented how many KPs would have been its takers? Very few. But why are they crestfallen about the project's death? It is because they still fantasize about returning to their ancestral land of 5,000 years and living their myths and mythologies about it and their lives in it. Once the inner-music is broken the world looks meaningless.

Even if Article 370 were lifted and the life in Kashmir would consequently change significantly, more conducive to KPs living there, they would still not return to their homeland in significant numbers. This is because the dream of returning to their paradise has been shattered. What has shattered it? Their experience. The 1989 experience of death, forced exodus, destruction, cruelty, humiliation, and threats to their lives has damaged the fabric of their love of and belonging to their land. Their dreams and myths about their lives have died, so there would be no point in returning.

The exodus of KPs was already under way in form of their new college graduates wanting to work outside Kashmir. But this process was natural and did not cut the umbilical cord with it. Overall, the younger generation of KPs (under 30's or so) was in the process of slowly drifting away from Kashmir because of the economic and political conditions in it. They wanted to work in modern companies, generally technology companies, which paid a decent salary, and live in a friendly environment, which were unavailable at home.

KPs have with fortitude and grace met their ordeal. The die of their new life has been cast but their wounds have not yet healed. Now that KPs are not the inhabitants of Kashmir, will they survive? Of course, they will survive. Human history is replete with migrations, both planned and forced ones. How should they live as a community now? While the economic forces have scattered them round the world but India will continue to be their bastion. To keep their ethos alive is their greatest challenge. Efforts are under way in India and different parts of the world in that direction. Gaining political power is essential to their community survival. But they are not a very political people, even though they have the mental tools to understand politics very well. Also, their meagre vote-bank is against them.

Over years, since India's independence, KPs did not cultivate a political network in New Delhi. The reason being their inaptitude for it. Politics requires consolidation of a group's assets and willingness to strike mutually advantageous compromises with other groups. But these are areas they are not good at. They have always wanted to live in their cocoon, negligent in paying proper attention to the political forces outside it. KPs, equipped with their intelligence and intellect, could have created some political influence during the long stretch of time since the advent of Islamic rule in Kashmir in 1339. This apathy to face reality outside their homes in full-blooded manner made their lives more miserable than they were.

In different parts of the world efforts have been made and are being made to keep alive the KP ethos, or a reasonable semblance of it, but every year it has become harder to do that. This is because KPs are single-harnessed horses; they do not move in tandem. They are essentially not a community-minded people but a concatenation of individuals. They are good and sharp people but not revolutionaries and dreamers. Whatever success that has been achieved so far in keeping the KP ethos alive is due to the work of some highly motivated people and not with the help of the community at large.

An emigrated people have to learn to live with the people, culture, and the place they migrate to. That is what some 700,000 (the estimated world-wide population of KPs) KPs are presently doing. It will take generations before they will get absorbed in their new world. And in the process they will inevitably lose their KP soul and create a new one. This is the price you pay for migrating, especially the forced one, from your milieu to a foreign place. There is nothing you can do about it.

Take the case of young people who were born outside Kashmir, who neither know Kashmiri, nor have visited Kashmir or know the KP ethos. How can we call them Kashmiris? But, they will, nevertheless, call themselves so, because there is a psychological need in human beings to have a connection with their roots. But in spite of this there would still be a lot of KPs living in Kashmir had the political turbulence in Kashmir not enlarged as much as it did.

Some people have suggested that KPs should change their name to Kashmiri Hindus. I believe that would be a mistake. While the name change would accrue the benefit of being part of a much larger community, thereby diluting their image of aloofness and cursedness, but the loss of their special identity would detract something invaluable from their soul. On the practical plane it would be insignificant.

KPs have been dealt with a bad hand by destiny but they are doing the best they can do with it. So, in a few decades from now, there will remain a KP community in the world, but it will be very different from the one we have known. But civilizations have changed with time and we cannot fight time, although in case of KPs it was forced to change prematurely.

But on the bright side of the situation younger KPs are excelling in their vocations and with their ingrained resilience their future is sanguine.

As Soren Kierkegaard said, "Life can only be understood backwards; but it must be lived forwards," let us look at the future of KPs with imagination but supported with earnestness.

Walking down the fossilized time,
Revisiting high pinnacles and green lakes
Of spirituality and learning,
Today the old native of Kashmir,
Kicked out of his natural habitat,
Wanders the far corners of the world –
To start a new life, a new community,
To heal his wounds, to follow the old light.
Cut off from its spiritual centre,
The community wanders in silent grief,
To find a mooring,
To revive the luminosity that once brightened its universe,
To rekindle the fire that bound it together,
But unable to be reborn,
It gradually drifts into the unnamed universal melting pot,
Turning its hallowed past into history,
Its vision into unborn hopes.

Vasudhaiva-Kutumbhakam can be achieved

With the help of Ayurveda & Yoga

–Er. P.L. Khushu

The Hindu religion believes in Vasudhaiva-Kutumbhakam. The phrase comprises two Sanskrit words: "Vasudha" — the Earth, "Eva"- is and "Kutumbhakam" — the family. It is a philosophy, which indicates that the whole world is one family. It is a social theory originating from a spiritual concept and understanding that \the entire humanity is made of one life energy.

The fundamental pillars of Vasudhaiva-Kutumbhakam are love and harmony, co-operation and mutual understanding and support. It believes that the whole world is a garden of God. Let us not spoil it or do anything that would create feelings of hatred. Thus, the concept of Vasudhaiva Kutumbhakam, can help in bringing unity and harmony in the universe.

Our Prime Minister Narendra Modi used this phrase in a speech at the "World Cultural Festival", organized by the Art of Living, saying that, "The Indian culture is very rich and has inculcated each one of us with great values". "We are the people who have come from Aham Brahamoasmi to Vasudhaiva- Kutumbhakam)".

This means that the people living on this planet earth belong to the family of Vasudhaiva-Kutumbhakam, which means that all the human beings on earth are the members of the same family. So we pray to the God as:-

"Sarve Bhavantu Sukhinah", "Sarve Santu Niramaya",

"Sarve Bhadrani Pashantu", Ma Kaschid Dukh Bhaag Bhavet",

"Om Shaanti , Shaanti, Shaanti".

Its meaning being:– May all become happy, May all be healthy (free from diseases), May all see what is auspicious, May no one suffer in any way. Om, Peace, Peace, Peace.

Sanatan Samskriti always keeps in mind the welfare of all human beings and not only of a caste, community or country. Keeping this in view, our sages have introduced Ayurveda and Yoga to the masses as a better way of life. It keeps our physical body healthy and bestows us long life.

Ayurveda does not mean medicines only. Ayurveda is a 5,000-year-old system of natural healing that has its origins in the Vedic culture of India. Although suppressed during years of foreign occupation, Ayurveda has been enjoying a major resurgence in both its native land and throughout the world. Ayurveda is more a science of life (Ayur = life, Veda = Science or Knowledge), than a mere system of treating illness. Similarly, the principles of yoga, particularly Patanjali's ashtanga yoga has to be adopted to live a better-quality life. (This idea cannot be elaborated in this article in detail for want of space)

Both offer enough wisdom designed to help people to stay vital while realizing their full human potential, providing guidelines on ideal daily and seasonal routines, diet, behaviour, and the proper use of our senses. Both these processes remind us that health is the balanced and dynamic integration between our environment, body, mind and spirit. For a dynamic and a balanced integration between the environment, body, mind, and sprit, it is essentially important to maintain the settled norms of one's external and internal disciplines in one's life.

In this regard, a reference is necessary to be made here about a lecture by the "Ishwar Swaroop Swami Lakshman Joo Maharaj". He says: "The eighteen arms of Lord Shiva, in the form of 'Swachanadanathatha', are created by Lord Shiva for the protection of the individual, but in order to receive this protection, the individual must adhere to the divine discipline comprising of five 'Niyams' (External Disciplines) and five 'Yams' (Internal Disciplines).

Swami Ji, further, describes the five Niyams as:

1. Saucha (Purity):- Sauch means cleanliness; the essence of purity is the purity of body, mind and tongue.

To keep the body clean is essential for God Consciousness. One must always speak truth.

2. Santosha (Contentment): One should be satisfied with whatever one has. One must take whatever little one possesses as a gift from the Lord. Do not crave for other's property.

3. Tapasya (Self Control and Tolerance):- It means: Follow your duty according to your capacity and circumstances even if you may have to face hardships. Do not over eat. One should leave one's stomach slightly empty.

4. Svadhayaya (Self Knowing):- One should devote one's time to study scriptures like the Bhagwad Gita. One should stop all types of gossip. Do not speak ill of anyone.

5. Ishwara Pranidhana (Devotion to God): This is the final Niyama. It means love and devotion to God. The love of Lord Shiva creates devotion. If one worships Lord Shiva, it is not possible for Him to neglect you.

The five Yamas are described by the classic books as:

1. Ahimsa (non-violence) comes first. It means non-injury to others. 2. Satya (Truthfulness). It means to speak truth always. 3. Asteya (Non-stealing). One should shun deceit and covetousness. 4. Brahmacharya (Continence). It is a divine attribute. The aspirant is now becoming superhuman through its practice. 5. Aparigraha, (Non-Covetousness). One must be free from cravings, unnecessary possessions,

Being the first limb of yoga, the five yamas are the foundation of the spiritual life on which the super-structure of one's course of seeking eternal liberation is built. It is about the development of positive traits that will transform the human nature into a divine nature and annihilate cravings and negative qualities.

Tri-Dosha

Recognizing that human beings are part of nature, Ayurveda describes three fundamental energies that govern our inner and outer environments: Movement, transformation, and structure. Known in Sanskrit as Vata (Wind), Pitta (Fire), and Kapha (Earth), these primary forces are responsible for the characteristics of our mind and body, including the state of our health standards.

Body types

Each of us has a unique proportion of these three forces that shapes our nature. If Vata is dominant in our Ayurvedic consultation system, we tend to be thin, light, enthusiastic, energetic, and changeable. If Pitta predominates our nature, we tend to be intense, intelligent, and goal-oriented and have a strong appetite for life. When Kapha prevails, we tend to be easy-going, methodical, and nurturing. Although each of us has all the three forces, most people have one or two elements that predominate.

Under the circumstances it essential to maintain a balance in our daily and routine, diet, which should be as simple as possible in its quality and quantity. Along with the observing of a strict and a simple dietary code, one has to follow and perform the prescribed yogic practices and observe the defined principles of "Yama" and "Niyama". A simple and a soft vegetarian diet is probably the answer to balance the quantum of "Vata", "Pitta" and 'Khapa", in the body.

Swami Sri Sri Yukteswar Giri mentions in his book "Kaivalya Darsanam" (The Holy Science), that "the only conclusion that can be reasonably drawn is that various grains, fruits, roots and beverages — milk and pure water openly exposed to Sun and air — are decidedly the best natural food for a man. These being congenial to the system, when taken according to the power of one's digestive organs, well chewed and mixed with saliva, are always easily assimilated". With regard to non-vegetarian foods, Swami Ji writes: "Other foods are unnatural to man and, being uncongenial to the system, are necessarily foreign to it, when they enter the stomach and are not properly assimilated. Mixed with blood, they accumulate in the excretory and other organs, which are not properly adapted to them. When they cannot find their way out, they subside in the tissue crevices by the law of gravitation and, being fermented, produce diseases, both mental and physical, and ultimately lead to premature death." ■

Autobiography

—T.N. Dhar 'Kundan'

I have been writing since my childhood. The interests shown by my readers and listeners encouraged me to author twenty odd books. Although my main interest has been in writing poetry in my mother tongue Kashmiri as also both in Hindi and Urdu, I have written only prose in English. I had the privilege of editing our community prestigious journals published from Delhi and Bangalore and I have been writing for various community magazines and News Letters for many decades. For being able to keep this writing on for such a long time I must give credit to the appreciation I got from my readers and the love and regard showered on me by my friends and admirers. Lately some of them have suggested that I write an autobiography too. I gave this suggestion a serious thought and decided not to do so for some good reasons. In this connection I must mention that the first section of five chapters of my book, 'Philosophy of a Common Man' is completely autobiographical. Besides all my writings, whether in the form of articles or books are based on my personal experiences in life and influenced by the environment in which I have lived and worked. So, all these are virtually in the form of an autobiography. The poetry that I have written is purely an expression of my thoughts, of whatever I have observed and perceived and my reaction to the times and events of my contemporary world. That also is predominantly autobiographical, for a creative poet or writer cannot but express his personal feelings and views.

Even then if I decide to write a formal autobiography that has to be faithfully written based on facts and figures of actual happenings. This is fraught with a good many problems. I will write about my successes and failures. I will describe events as I saw them. I will make mention of all those people whom I dealt with and characterize them in the manner I evaluated them. I will give my account of happenings and see everything from my perspective. Now it is not necessary that others will agree with me in all this description. If they agree with me they will say, 'well, no wonder, we thought so and this writer has stolen our ideas and views.' If they do not agree with my views, they will say, 'this man has gone crazy. What does he know? It is not like that at all.' I shall unnecessarily become a cause of big controversy. About my successes they will ascribe it to chance and good luck. They will say, 'fortune favours foolish' and will never give credit to me for my perseverance, hard work and dogged resilience. About my failures they will hold me responsible and categorize me as an unwise, unintelligent lazy inert man.

When I write about men and women I shall obviously write about their vices and virtues, their good side and bad side, their qualities and shortcomings. When I faithfully write about their qualities and virtues they will feel that I am flattering them for some personal gains and favours. If I point out their shortcomings and follies they will feel annoyed with me and my relationship with them will be affected adversely. If some of them are no more with us, it is all the more inappropriate to write about their bad side, after their death and if I stop at writing about their good side only the auto biography will lose the basic character of being a truthful account that it should be. About me, if I write of my own qualities which I deem good, the readers will say I am proud arrogant and indulging in self-praise. Even Bhartrihari has disapproved of self-praise. Says he, 'Ameeshaam prananaam tulit bisnipatra payasaam krite kim naasmabhih nija guna katha patakam mahat – For this life's breath, which is as fragile as a drop of water on a lotus pod, we have committed every possible sin, even the greatest of them all- the sin of self praise.' And if I state my own shortcomings, everyone will believe in it, condemn me without examining the circumstances that gave rise to those features and without appreciating my efforts to overcome those or avoid them. I will be an object of ridicule. Again I cannot hide these failures and shortcomings, the bad side of me, for the same reason that I have to be faithful while writing the autobiography. After all I have to write facts not fiction, true occurrences and happenings and not imaginary events.

There is yet another aspect to this writing a story in which one has to sit on judgment on others. It is ethically and morally improper for me to pronounce judgment on the conduct of others. I may think something they did was good and some other thing was bad but is my decision final? Are my self-made scales of evaluating others words and deeds perfect? There may be different view points on the same behavior. There could be valid and compelling reasons for someone to behave in the manner he actually did and these may not be within my knowledge or apprehension. If I do not like others to judge my actions how can I justify my sitting on judgment on their conduct and behavior? There are always news behind news, reasons for views and causes for effect. Unless one knows the background of every occurrence it is futile to examine and evaluate it. We have quite often seen that some criticism is made at the face of something. The action or statement is condemned. Subsequently when the reality of the matter unfolds, the person making the criticism is put to shame and he has to regret his hasty remarks. The only way out would perhaps be to write diplomatically in a veiled and camouflaged manner. That I feel is against the very soul of writing an authentic autobiography.

I know all the great men Gandhi, Nehru, Subhas Chandra Bose, et al, have written their autobiographies. Many other lesser-known persons too have done so. The autobiographies of great men are historical documents. These throw light on the events that changed the history of the countries. They tell us the story behind the story. They are, no doubt, faithful accounts of their lives but are meant to give details of various happenings that made them take a stand on various matters or forced them to reject certain things which, at hind sight, might appear to be follies. These biographies uncover many a fact, which gives the rationale and justification for them to have acted in the way they did. It throws light on their thinking, their ideologies and the purpose of all their actions. Prosterity is able to evaluate and understand better the historical events by reading these intricate details. On the other hand, some lesser-known persons too write their autobiographies either for the fun of it, or for earning money or sometimes to settle scores with people who have not favoured them or have not acted at their behest and in their interests.

I, for one, am neither a great person so that my autobiography can be treated as a historical document, nor do I have any score to settle or any personal interest to achieve. Why then should I write an autobiography? I have been all through a common man, who has had ups and downs in life. I have had to struggle. I have seen good times and bad times. I have worked hard when it was needed. I have enjoyed when I got the opportunity. I have met successes which pleased me. I have had some failures too which saddened me. All this is usual for any person of an ordinary life span. What is the big deal, therefore, to write all this and waste the reader's time? I have been God-fearing. So are millions of people on this globe. I have tried to be ethically and morally on the correct path. I have faithfully executed my duties, personal, social, official as also as a human being. That I believe is again true of every average person. There may be many persons who hold me in esteem and consider me to be reasonably a good person. There may be some who are not happy with me for some reason and feel that I am not a good person. This situation too is true of any person in this world. After all, we have our interests and our individual ways of looking at people. Normally, those who favour us are good and those who do not are bad. This evaluation is subjective and not objective. Then, there are different ways of reacting to a situation. Some people may be magnanimous enough to ignore my shortcomings and may still hold me dear. Some others may be narrow-minded to carry a personal grudge against me for a long time and, therefore, they would naturally carry a different opinion about me. Because of all these factors of subjective assessment, my autobiography may not be that appealing to many of my readers. I have gained some goodwill with my writings all these years and would not like to spoil it by writing an account of my life for the aforesaid reasons.

I have, all along, treated my life as a constant journey where there have been many a mile stone and a well-thought-of destination. I have made it a point to derive maximum satisfaction and pleasure from this journey itself rather than after reaching the desired destination. I have enjoyed the various mile-stones of whatever worth they were, for I always believed that one has to learn from every inch of this journey of life. I have largely been influenced by the doctrine of 'Nishkama karma' of Bhagavad Gita and have believed in action without bothering for the fruit; of course the actions have to be noble, with purpose and in the right direction. I have also experienced that the Divine takes care of all those who are constantly in touch with him through an undivided unflinching devotion and faith. This can be treated as sum and substance of my autobiography. God bless all, 'Sarve bhavantu sukhinah – May everyone be happy'. ■

Theosophical tranquility

—Dr. Roshan Saraf

Hinduism – a human culture, serene and sagacious, a fluorescent faculty of pertinent philosophy of pantheism incensed in spirituality and divinity in blooming lush green...

'Navratri' – nine days of religious hustle of 'Maa Durga' – divine Mother of universe, a flowery festivity in flawless flavour mesmerizing ecology in jubilant jingle and bustle...

Holy days of Nine forms of 'Maa Bhavani' in
'Shakti', 'Parvati', 'Chandraghanta', 'Kushmanda',
'Skanda Maa', 'Katyayani', 'Kalaratri', 'Maha Gauri' and 'Maa Siddhidhaatri' being worshiped by every kith and kin...

24 X 9 days and nights – every deity lulls symbolic 'Maa Bhavani' like a daughter and feeds
the toddling seedling amid sacred hymns in pious dedication under the echo of jingling bells...

Every form of 'Maa Durga' is to bless
Her devotees with prosperity, love and affection; bestow peace and tranquility to every human soul in abundance beyond human guess...

Believe me, every theologian during classic 'Navratri' celebrations feels rejuvenated, fresh optimistic in trance because of the pensive meditation – morning to evening...

Even old and feeble men and women feel sangfroid because of the pious worship of 'Maa Brahmacharini' who always bestows strength and stamina to every human...

Yes, a hiccup because of Her departure to Her divine abode to Himalayas besides Her ultimate Lord – Shiv, to Her lotus citadel besides Lord Vishnu to take our care for sure...

Martyr Deepu (Deepak) Thusoo : Community hero

Dear Deepu: 'We love you, respect you and will always be proud of your sacrifice. You fought valiantly for keeping our people and country safe. And, your memories will be always in our hearts.'

It is truer to say that martyrs create faith more than faith creates martyrs... Miguel de Unamuno

For the young Kashmiri Pandit children and posterity, Special Grade Constable (SGT) Deepu Thusoo of Jammu Kashmir Armed Police (JKAP), will be the story of a brave soldier, who in his supreme sacrifice for the nation also wrote a glorious chapter about KP community's patriotic values and upbringing. In his death, martyred Deepu Thusoo, proved that a KP on duty in no less brave and when it comes to die for the nation, he or she is second to none.

Originally hailing from Karihama village of Kupwara district and born to Dwarka Nath and Pushpa Thusoo, Deepu, in all about 35 years of age, was the only son of his parents and in fact, the lone bread earner after his father, also a policeman had died during his training while Deepu was still very young. He joined the police force in 2010 under the Prime Minister Special Employment Package.

On the fateful day of March 20, 2018, when an operation was launched by men of the Army's 41 Rashtriya Rifles, CRPF's 98 Batallion and Special Operations Group of the J&K Police following inputs about the presence of six militants in the dense forest area of Arampora (Kuowara), Deepu Thusoo was part of the J&K police team. While four militants were eliminated in the early stages of the operation, two managed to hide at some height. Reportedly, Deepu while sighting them lunged at them and came under heavy firing from militants and scores of bullets hit him, some of these in the abdomen area not protected by bulletproof vest.

He along with his colleague special police officer (SPO) Mohammad Yousuf, a native of Kachama village of Kupwara, died along with three army soldiers— Havildar Jorabar Singh, Naik Ranjeet Khalkho and Naik Mohd Ashraf Rather in this fierce encounter on March 21.

As the mortal remains of martyr Deepu Thusoo were brought to Jagati migrant township, as expected, a pall of gloom descended among entire KP community throughout the world, and people in Jagti gave vent to their anger by raising anti-Pakistan slogans as it is the neighboring country's state sponsored terrorism that first drove them out of their homes and now snatched a young life from the community.

In solidarity and befitting to the occasion, almost every family in Jagti didn't eat till the body of Deepu was consigned to flames in the state funeral at Jagti crematorium on March 22. The youth brigade and a number of KP activists in Jammu, very well organized and coordinated by Sh Pintoo Ji Pandita, a young community worker in Jagti, specially went to the Jammu airport to receive the body and through a possession brought the mortal remains to Jagti where people from all walks of life joined to pay homage to the slain Deepu Thusoo.

The heart rendering scenes, the solidarity and anger—all were spontaneous and in those uncontrolled tears from one and all, the community bid adieu to one of its brave sons, a reminder that essentially the same blood flows through all of us and when it comes to the larger or core community cause, all KPs are essentially one.

Party leaders and workers across all political parties, state government ministers, leadership from all KP organizations in Jammu, and top brass of Jammu & Kashmir Police including DGP, Shri S P Vaid by their presence and representation, at funeral and 10th Day tribute meeting of Deepu, was very touching and healing to an extent both to the family of the martyr and KP community for sharing our grief and honoring the sacrifice of the martyr.

Martyr Deepu Thusoo has left behind two young children Aman (studying in Class 9) and Palak (Class 5). As a doting father, he had high dreams for them. Both of these children also miss their father badly. His widow and aged mother are the two in the family, who will always miss him from their lives. Even though some monetary support has reached the family from various quarters, it will always need love and respect of a martyr's family.

Several organizations including Kashmir Samiti Delhi have expressed solidarity with the family and demanded gallantry award for late Deepu Thusoo and entitlements for the family. It was really good of the local administration to declare the Jagti lane 26 park as Shaheed Deepu Thusoo park and like this we expect other recognition for him so that he becomes a youth icon and someone who will always inspire young KPs to work for the country. ■

Dr. A. K. Sadhu has left us

-Vijay Wattal

The untimely departure of Dr. A K (Autar Kishan) Sadhu, former Professor & Head of the Department of Physiology, Govt. Medical College, Jammu, has shocked his friends and well wishers.

He was born in Kotli, Mirpur, now in Pak- occupied Kashmir), where his father worked as an accountant in a State Government Department. The family had to leave Kotli, in October, 1947, when Dr. Sadhu was one-year old. The family lived in their ancestral home in Habbakadal, Srinagar, near Purana Dak Khana.

Dr. Sadhu was brilliant right from his school days. He passed his 12th examination, getting high marks which enabled him to get admission in Government Medical College, Srinagar. He completed his graduation and post-graduation from the same institute. With the establishment of the Govt. Medical College, Jammu, he was posted there. He was the architect of establishing the Physiology Department. Hailing from a middle-class family, with no strings to pull at the corridors of power, he went up the ladder of promotions and got the coveted position of Professor in the shortest possible time by his efficiency, integrity and hard work. He is contemporaries say he was the youngest Professor at that time.

An ever-smiling face, combined with an almost whispering voice, he had endeared himself to the students and his colleagues. Professionally, behind this gentle personality was a person of strong principles and convictions. He was a tough examiner and would give tough time to the students while assessing them. This writer had the liberty of asking him questions. When asked, why he was strict with students during exams, Dr. Sadhu paused for a while and then replied : "These students, in future, have to deal with human lives which are precious and, hence, they should not be found wanting to face the problems and bring a bad name to the teachers who taught them'. A voracious reader he would equip himself with the latest. He represented the Govt. Medical College, Jammu, in national and international seminars pertaining to his subject and presented papers in these.

Dr. Sadhu, lived a simple life and kept a low profile. He, was the perfect example of "simple living and high thinking". He was a man of few needs and lived a contented and peaceful life with his family. He had a passion for playing "Bridge" (a game of cards needing high concentration and intelligence). He would relax and unwind himself by playing with his friends and colleagues.

After retirement he settled down in his own house at Chenni Himat, He had a complete normal life during his service. After retirement, his health took a U turn. Despite getting the best of treatment he could not regain his normal health. It went on deteriorating till he was rendered immobile. He was bedridden for the last several years.

We share the family's grief.

Book Review

Communal Harmony in Kashmiri Literature by Dr. Roop Krishan Bhat; published by Authorpress, Hauz Khas, New Delhi; pages: 192; price: Rs. 800/.

Reviewer: Jagannath Dhar

The volume is a front-and-back-view mirror on the subject of communal harmony in Kashmiri literature of the past millennium. It landscapes works of poets — mystic, Sufi, and modern. It evaluates works of poetry and prose, including that of post-1990 when militancy reached its zenith in Kashmir.

The author is of the view that Kashmiri writers and poets have contributed a lot to the idea of communal harmony. He is unhappy over the happenings of the recent years in the valley; yet is hopeful that things will change for the better. He quotes G.R. Malik to say: Whatever has befallen us is an aberration, and, before long, we shall be back on the track. A civilization, that has nurtured humanitarian values for countless centuries, cannot be extinguished out of existence by forces of darkness." Roop Krishan hopes that the will of Nunda Rishi shall prevail as the Sufi poet says: "When shall my Lord be gladdened? With the oneness of Muslims and Hindus."

According to the author, the eventfull creed of communal-harmony writing began with Lal Ded, who said: "Shiv chhuy thali, thali rozaan; mo zaan Hyond ti Musalman." Shiva pervades everywhere. Don't discriminate between a Hindu and Muslim. Lal's tradition was continued by her shining disciple Nuda Rishi, alias Sheikh-ul-Alam, who said: "Akis maelis,ma:ji hiendan; timay dye traevith ti kyay. Musalman kyo Hend'an; kar bandan to;shi khoday." They are the children of the same parents. They should not entertain hateful relations. Muslims and Hindus should have friendly relations. That will keep God happy. Vaakhs of the Shaivite Lal and shrukhs of the Rishi Noor-ud-din gripped the hearts of Kashmiris for seven centuries – till 1931 when communal elements started vitiating the secular atmosphere.

The tradition set by the two saints was followed by many. Wahab Khan said: Hazrat Admas zeey gabar; tim aes doay silsilay. Aek raet aavaaren, beyi kabar; donaway chhi kuni zaath." Adam had two sons. One of the two opted for a cremation ground; the other sought a grave. Both of them hail from a common source. Shah Gafoor was knowledgeable in both shastras and Islamic mysticism. He was influenced by saguna phiosopy. In a similar vein Shamas Faqir, Nyama Saeb and Asad Paray showed respect for Ram and Rahim and Kabba and temple.

Modern poetry, in Kashmiri, began with Medhjoor's compositions. He pleaded: "Nyay traeviv, maay thaviv paanavaen. Poz mohabat baegraeviv paanivaen. Forgive and forget your differences. Inculcate mutual affection. Exchange true affection among yourselves. The title of the Master, who stood for communal harmony, goes to Abdul Ahad Azad. His idea: "Diin myon milatsaar, daram yeksaan.
Saaarinye kyut chhu nuuranni myon." My Muslim religion stands for integration. My Hindu religion seeks equality... Yuth me nish Hyond, tyuthy Musalman." For me a Hindu and Muslim are the same.

This message was continued by Nadim. He dedclared: "Yi chhu mandar Ishbar vaet; yi ganta ati chha vazaan. Hu chhu astaan ba barkat. Chhe kami huba naat grazaan." We have reached Ishbar. There is a temple here and a bell is ringing over here. That is a sacred place of Muslims. With what a devotion is Naat presented there. Other poets of this genre are Rahman Rahi, Moti Lal Saqi, Makhan Lal Kanwal, Ghulam Nabi Janbaaz, alias Dholwaal, from Kishtwar, Habib Ullah Arahgami, Fazil Kashmiri and Mohammad Shafi Shaida.

In the fields of prose and short-story, Nadim, Soom Nath Zutshi, Aziz Haroon and Noor Mohammad Roshan were the early writers. Then came Akhtar Mohidin, Amin Kamil, Ali Mohammad Lone, Hari Krishen Kaul, Bansi Nirdosh, Amar Malmohi, Avtar Krishen Rahbar, Rattan Lal Shant, Hriday Kaul Bharti and others.

The period, after 1990, turned out to be pathetic for both Kashmir and Kashmiri literature. Still, Arjan Dev Majboor, Prem Nath Shad, Rafiq Raaz,Sunita Raina Pandit, Ashok Saraf Gyayal, Jagan Nath Sagar Ayaz Rasool Nazki and others continued to produce good verses. In prose writing, Makhan Lal Pandita, Mohidin Reshi, Roop Krisahen Bhat, Omkar Nath Koul and Mehfooza Jan, kept the flag flying high.

The volume is a product of the labour of love of the author, who has had experience of writing and teaching linguistics and allied subjects for over half a century. It is encyclopedic and provides information which most of us lack.

Printing of the book is excellent. There is enough space between words and between lines. As a result, the printed matter provides joy to the reader. ■

Yeli parda woth by Autar Krishan 'Rahbar'; printed at J. K. Offset, Jama Masjid, Delhi; published by the author at 2B/E5, Shatabdi Vihar, Sector 52, NOIDA, U. P., 201307; pages: 180; price: Rs. 400

Reviewer: Jagannath Dhar

The volume is a pathfinder in the realm of story writing. Its themes are penetrative, variegated. Endings are dramatic, histrionic, occasionally unexpected. Some stories are open-ended. Readers are free to draw conclusions about the statements in such denouements. The languages is straight, strong, standing. The description style keeps the reader attentive.

'Rahbar' has added new words, phrases and conceptions to Kashmiri literature. This will enrich the language. No language, in the world, is complete by itself. That is the reason why such a developed language, like English, is adding 10,000 new words in its lexicon every year. Urdu is following suit. 'Discipline' is a commonly- accepted word in that language. Hindi, too, wants to adopt the system. 'Rahbar' uses words like the Persian 'mun'farid, implying unique, isolated, solitary, or lonely. He utilizes the Hindi word 'shant'. This effort is in line with the works of litterateurs like Ghulam-ul-Sayiddain who used to say that in Urdu there is no such comprehensive word as can compare with the Hindi word 'dukh'. Rahbar has succeeded in bringing out of grave old, forgotten, or dead Kashmiri words. One such word he uses is manan. Eighty per cent Kashmiris have forgotten the word for 80 years now. It used to be a firepot used during winter by residents who did not have enough kangris or could not secure one on time. It had no willow branches round it as are found round normal kangris. Its manufacture needed less craftsmanship and would be prepared with only mud and water in one's own house. It was, also, known as a poor man's kangir.

Autar Krishan has added new concepts too. He describes a shouting atmosphere as the fast flow of 'Remb Aar'. The description is appropriate because that river has a lot of stones during the beginning path of its travel. When water rushes through these, it creates a lot of noise. He creates phrases like 'khaam sothis waath diwan, implying to undertake a task that will not last long. He talks of 'sadar paazan', that is emptying the ocean, indicating a task that can never bear fruit.

The volume presents works of traditional, modern and ultra-modern genre. 'Yeli parda woth' story is in the background of the modern theatrical setting. The huge hall and multi-coloured lightning arrangements, there, carry the reader's imagination to the 22nd century. In juxtaposition, the theme is nearer to that of the Jewish and Christian Bible which say that God became tired during the six days while creating the world, its flora and fauna and then took rest for a day which was important and is known as Sabbath. 'Rahbar's' imagination flies further high. He makes the audience wait till the last interview is held and it gets revealed that God created man because He wanted something to allow Him to laugh at.

"Yi gow gazab" raises the level of fantasy depicted in Akanandan Kalyan ,one of the earliest books, published in Kashmiri in the beginning of the past century. In Akanundan the hero is, first, killed, then brought back to life. Rahhar does not allow his hero Jamaal to die. To save his life his mother and his peer are ready to give their lives. The exchange proposal is approved by Malik-ul-Mot and Jamaal, the only son of their parents,is brought back to life from his death bed.

'Tachhun' is a dramatic presentation of conflict between genuine affection and pragmatism. It shows that a human being's values undergo a change when surroundings around him change; yet basic characteristics of an individual continue to remain well-heeled.

'Khoji La' conveys that sometimes a single accident sets right the wayward behaviour of an individual. And when such person comes to his senses, his actions generate a sense of pleasure which is helpful to change the sentiment of another individual from sorrow to happiness.

'Mool is the powerful narration of the displaced community. The author narrates the thinking and condition of a family, now in exile. Still, it can be treated as a representative of the community as a whole. Its members are living in different parts of the world. The branches of their tree are quite wide, but its roots are worm-eaten, God-forsaken.

"Meshraewthas Jananav" depicts that it can take more than a life time to fully know the difficulties and anxieties the other person, in our proximity, is facing. Most of us remain ignorant about the injustices we make the other person suffer.

Sahitya Akademi presented the author literary award to the author for this collection of short stories, on February 12 last. ■

Pran Kishore Kaul

It was a pure chance that I switched on DD News and the channel was telecasting live the distribution of "Padma" awards by the President. It was a great pride for me when Shri Pran Kishore's name was announced. While most of the recipients were brought on wheel chairs, Shri Pran Kishore walked to receive the award walking on his own. Age has taken a heavy toll. Down the memory lane , I remember Pran Jee, a handsome person, with a thick bushy hair, always dressed properly, speaking in his characteristic tone recognised by people all over the valley.

He belongs to that group of trail blazers who played a significant role in the progress and development of Radio Kashmir. Not only he, but his wife Smt. Shanta Kaul (who passed away two years ago), the graceful lady, with a big visible mole , always clad in a starched sari, contributed significantly to what Radio Kashmir is today.

It was my late father, Shri. N. L. Wattal , who, besides being a journalist, was associated with Radio Kashmir since 1948, who introduced me to the Kauls.

I think in the present generation, it was mostly Capt. Shiban Tikoo who spent quality time with the Kauls. I request Tikoo Sahab to tell more about the Kaul family.

सम्पादकीय

भारतीय वामपंथी विचारधारा का वास्तविक सच क्या है?

आधुनिक युग में वामपंथी विचारधारा एक ऐसा इकलौता दर्शन है, जिसने योरोप में पुरातन काल से फैलाये इस झूठ को पूरी तरह ध्वस्त किया कि अमीरी ग़रीबी, ऊंच–नीच, राजा रंक का होना किसी प्राकृतिक विधान का नतीजा है। वास्तव में मार्क्स के आते आते इस बात को काफी हद तक बल मिल चुका था कि प्रकृति किसी भी व्यक्ति को अमीर या ग़रीब बना कर नहीं भेजती है। जो कुछ होता है मानव द्वारा बनाये सामाजिक व राजनीतिक तंत्र के अनुरूप ही होता है।

जब जैसी सामाजिक आर्थिक और राजनीतिक व्यवस्था रही है उसी अनुपात से मानव जीवन उस व्यवस्था से प्रभावित रहा है। मार्क्स का मानना है कि प्राकृतिक संसाधन जिसमें मनुष्य और उसके जीवन से सम्बन्ध सभी प्राकृतिक संसाधन, हवा, पानी, धरती, आकाश, खनिज, माल मवेशी, आचार, विचार, योग और संयोग एवं इन चीजों से उत्पादित सारे उपकरण, उत्पाद, एवं वस्तुएं, सब प्रकृति प्रदत्त है और इन पर सबका समान अधिकार है।

इस अधिकार को ताक़त अथवा छल–बलपूर्वक कोई वर्ग विशेष अथवा समाज विशेष अपने क़ब्ज़े में करके अपने नियन्त्रण में लेकर बाकी सारे बहुसंख्यक मनुष्यों को इन प्राकृतिक संसाधनों पर अधिकारों से वंचित करता है और इस तरह सामाजिक व्यवस्था को अपने हितानुरूप कर देता है।

इस स्थिति के अनेक सोपान गिनाये अथवा बताये गये हैं कि जिसके चलते ऐसी व्यवस्था बनती गई जहां एक मनुष्य स्वामी कहलाया और दूसरा दास, एक राजा और दूसरा प्रजा, एक कुलीन और दूसरा अकुलीन। इस व्यवस्था के मूल में ईश्वर का ज़रा भर भी हाथ नहीं है, इसको इस बात ने साबित कर दिया कि यह पुरातन काल से चली आई व्यवस्थायें नई सोच और नये युग के आगे धाराशायी हो गई। दासता के युग का अंत हुआ और क्रांति का दौर दौरा हर जगह सामने आया जिसके पीछे वैज्ञानिक सोच के अविर्भाव का बहुत बड़ा हाथ है। अंधकार को मिटाने में विज्ञान ने सबसे अधिक योगदान दिया।

सामाजिक संतुलन को बनाये रखने के लिये इस बात को मूल रूप से स्वीकार किया गया कि प्रकृति ने सारे मनुष्यों को एकसमान पैदा नहीं किया। पर सबको समान जीवन प्रदान अवश्य किया है। इसलिए हर प्रकार के मनुष्य को जीवन का समान अधिकार और जीवन से जुड़े प्राकृतिक संसाधनों पर समान अधिकार और पहुंच होनी चाहिए। मानव समानता का अर्थ ही प्राकृतिक असमानता को निरस्त करना है।

भारतीय वामपंथी समानता के बीजरूप सिद्धांत और मूलमंत्र पर पानी फेर कर भारतीय समाज को भारतीय प्राकृतिक संसाधनों पर कुण्डली मार कर बैठे हुए और अपने कब्ज़े में इन संसाधनों को कर, शेष भारतवासियों को इन संसाधनों के समुचित उपभोग से बेदखल कर इन पर विराजमान धनपतियों, इनके छद्म और छल पर, इनकी राजनीतिक शक्ति और गठजोड़ पर न कभी इन वामपंथियों को बात करते देखा है और न ही किसी तरह भी इस सामाजिक, आर्थिक और राजनीतिक कुचक्र को उजागर करते देखा है। इसके उल्ट भारतीय वामपंथ देश की समस्त संपदा पर काबिज़ इस एक प्रतिशत धनकुबेर के हितों में खड़ा और अड़ा देश को जाति, धर्म, प्रांत, जिहाद, की राजनीति में देश के युवा वर्ग को पथभ्रष्ट करने में साफ तौर पर नज़र आता है। ये लोग किस कोण से खुद को वामपंथी कहाते हैं। इनका वामपंथ एक ढोंग और ढकोसले के सिवा कुछ भी नहीं है, जो देश की स्वतंत्रता, प्रजातंत्र, और सामाजिक न्याय के लिए बहुत बड़ा खतरा है। (maharajkshah@gmail.com)

कविता

काश ! मैं एक दरिया होता।

—रोशनलाल काचरू

काश! मैं एक दरिया होता
मेरे जीवन का एक निश्चित मार्ग होता
दिन–रात थकन का नाम न लेता
केवल परोपकार का सतत प्रवाह होता
काश! मैं एक दरिया होता।

मैं जलाशय की शाखा बनकर खेतों में
बहता
ऊसर पड़े खेतों में उपयुक्त उपज उगाता
मरू–भूमि में सहार्द एक सरिता बहाता
मैं ग्रामों को दुल्हन बनाता
नगरों के कलों में घोड़े दौड़ाता
काश! मैं एक दरिया होता।

मैं काली जहरीली चट्टानों का आलिंग्न करता
जात–पात, भेदभाव का नाम मिटाता
पठारों को समतल करता
अमृत जल से मित्रता का उपज उगाता
जहां बहता, शत्रुता का नाम न होता
काश! मैं एक दरिया होता।

मैं हरित भरित खेत में परिपक्व खलिहान सजाता
हर प्रांत के गोदाम सुखद बनाता
मातृभूमि का कोश भरता
स्वयं को बांटता रहता
शक्तिशाली देश देख
प्रति प्राणी गौरवान्वित बनता
काश! मैं एक दरिया होता।
मैं निर्धन की भुखमरी मिटाता
निस्सहाय के माथे बंधा
'बंधुआ मजदूर' का कलंक मिटाता
अनाथ बच्चों का भरपेट देख
विद्यालय का मार्ग दिखाता
प्रतिकोने से प्रतिक्षेत्र हेतु
देश को निश्चिंत सिपाही देता
सबका मिलजुल एक प्रफुल्लित उद्यान
सजाता
काश! मैं एक दरिया होता।

मैं जलप्रवाह बन, प्रति नल में घुस जाता
नीरस पड़े कंठों को, अपना पीयूष पिलाता
जटिल चित्तों में अपना कलरव भर अवरोध हटाता
मन में कसी श्रृंखलाएं काट,
मानवता का पाठ पढ़ाता
काश! मैं एक दरिया होता।

मैं सौभाग्यशाली होता
अपने तटों खड़े भव्य मंदिर, मस्जिद, गिरजे
गुरुद्वारों, सबके दर्शन करता
प्रातः सायं उठती गूंजती स्वर–लय में घुल मिल
जाता
काश! मैं एक दरिया होता।

मेरे ऊपर सेतु सजते
आवागमन से दो तटों के वासी मिलते
मैं एक संगम–स्वर बन जाता
दो दिलों को एक कर, उन्हें हर्षित जीवनसाथी
बनाता
उनके घर बसाकर, अपना भी जीवन सफल बनाता
काश! मैं एक दरिया होता।। ■

कूड़ादान

–हीरालाल कौल

कई दशकों से मेरे संग चल रही
मेरी इन पुस्तकों को आज मैंने
कूड़ेदान में फैंक दिया है।
जवानी में जिन्हें पढ़कर मैंने
सुनहरे सपने जगाए थे
आज उनका खोखलापन
साफ सामने झलक रहा है।
जिनसे उत्साहित होकर कभी
मेरे कदमों में गति आती थी
आज वे स्वयं हताश नज़र आती हैं।
जो प्रेरणा की स्रोत थीं कभी
वे आज स्वयं हतप्रभ हुईं
मुंह छिपाने की जगह पूछ रही हैं।
जिन पुस्तकों ने मुझे मेरे
मौलिक अधिकार गिनाए थे
आज वे मेरे अधिकारों की सडांस
सूंघकर नाक दबाए भाग खड़ी हुई हैं।
नया कश्मीर के सुंदर गुलदस्ते से
जिन पुस्तकों ने भविष्य के उजलेपन
का दृश्य दिखाया था
आज उनके पृष्ठ कोरे हो गए हैं।
"बचपन में एक कविता हमें पढ़ाई गई
अच्छा समय आएगा, बच्चो!
तब जन्म से नहीं, योग्यता से होगा राज
तलवार रहेगी म्यानों में
कलम के सिर बंधेगा ताज।"
समय तो नहीं बदला पर
वह कविता विधवा अवश्य हो गई
और उसकी हृदय–विदारक चीत्कार
विधवाश्रम की दीवारों में लुप्त हो गई।
मताधिकार समझाने वाली पुस्तक
मतों की सौदेबाजी से दुखी होकर
चिल्लूभर पानी में आत्महत्या
करने पर उतारू हो गई है।
योग्यता और परिश्रम का दम
भरने वाली पुस्तकें आज
आरक्षण के पैरों तले कचूमर हुईं
खून के अश्रू रो रही हैं।
कानून की हेकड़ी भरने वाली पुस्तकें
आज स्वयं प्रतारित (ठगी सी) महसूस कर रही हैं
संसद हंगामे की जगह और न्यूज़ चैनल
शोर शराबे का अड्डा बन गए हैं।
शब्दकोश के शब्द आज अपने
पुराने अर्थों को तलाक देकर
नए अर्थों के संग नैन मटकाते
हनीमून (आनंद–मास) मना रहे हैं।
इसलिए कई दशकों से मेरी संगी
यह पुस्तकें आज मुझे पराई लग रही हैं
उनके शवों का बोझ अब उठाया नहीं जाता
उनकी दयनीय दशा को देखकर मैंने
उन्हें तिलांजलि दे दी है।
मैंने उन्हें कूड़ेदान में फैंक दिया है।। ■

मानव प्रकृति

—एच.एल. कौल

पानी का बुलबुला हूं और आकाश मुकाम है मेरा।

कुछ कम नहीं मैं उससे शायद हूं रूप उसी का।।

जो भी सवाल किया है रब से जवाब हर दम मिला।

शायद मेरी समझ में रब ने रख बसेरा।।

मेरी हिम्मत में जोश है शायद भरा उसी ने।

कमजोरियों को जब भी मिटा दिया है मैंने।।

जादू है उसके नाम में है मुझे यह यकीन।

नाम लेते ही वरना क्यों आता है माहेज़बीन।।

बेरंग मगर रंग भरे अनेक इस संसार में।

बेवफा हरगिज नहीं प्रेम के व्यापार में।।

कुछ बात है कि मुझको जुदाई मिली है उससे।

खता जरूर है कोई माफी मिलेगी उससे।।

शादमानी चाह मेरी, यह है मेरी प्रकृति।

जान जाओ जितनी जल्दी होगी मेरी नेक भक्ति।।

हटा दे परदा बीच का दिखा दे जलवा तू अपना।

हर्ष मेरा उस अनंत का बनकर रहे ना स्वपना।। ■

काली माता का स्थल - ठाकुरपुर

—बदरीनाथ भट्ट

पुलवामा से एक बड़ा मार्ग पखरपोश जाता है। इस मार्ग के दायें–बायें प्राचीनकाल के बहुत सारे स्थल विद्यमान हैं। रोहमशी नदी को पार करके रोहमूह गांव आता है। ''राजतरंगिणी'' में इसका वर्णन आाय है। यह गांव प्रसिद्ध राजा तुंजना की रानी, वाक–पुष्ठा द्वारा बसाया गया है। इसका पहला नाम ''रोहमशू'' था जो अब रोहमुहू बन गया है। राजा तुंजना ने स्वयं ''तुंजन'' बसाया था जो आजकल 'तुजन' नाम से जाना जाता है। यह गांव कोई तीन किलोमीटर रोहमुहू के पश्चिम में स्थित है।

यह रोहमुहू गांव रोहमुहू ''वुडुर'' (पहाड़ियों) की तराई में स्थित है और यह वुडुर पूरे पश्चिम और उत्तर में दूर दूर तक फैली हुई है। इस वुडुर पर प्राचीनकाल में राजाओं और सामंतों ने कई गांव बसाए हैं जो ठाकुरपुर, कामराजीपुर, चरारीपुर, शंकरपुर आदि नामों से जाने जाते हैं। ये गांव दसवीं शताब्दी में बसाए गए हैं।

रानी दिद्दा (द्यद–रानी) दसवीं शताब्दी में हमारे कश्मीर की रानी थी। उसका पति क्षेम गुप्ता था। यह रानी लोहरा देश (लोहरान पुंछ) के राजा सिंह राजा की बेटी थी।

इस रानी ने 950 ई. से 1003 ई. तक कश्मीर पर राज्य किया। रानी दिद्दा कश्मीर की ऐसी रानी रही है जिसने सबसे प्रबल प्रभाव तथा साहस दिखाकर कश्मीर पर राज्य किया है

इसी प्रभावशील रानी के समय राजोरी तथा पुंछ से कई ठाकुर घराने कश्मीर में आए जिनमें से कई सामंत भी बन गए। ठाकुर–पुर इन्हीं ठाकुरों द्वारा बसाया हुआ गांव है।

1980 की घटना है। ठाकुरपुर का एक जमींदार गुलाम अहमद ठाकुर, अपने खेतों में मिट्टी खोद रहा था कि अकस्मात उसका कुदाल किसी पत्थर से जा टकराया। तब उसने इस पत्थर को खोद निकाला। वह यह देखकर दंग रह गया कि यह पत्थर एक काली मूर्ति है। तब उसने और खुदाई की और एक और मूर्ति निकल आई। पहली मूर्ति काली माता की थी और दूसरी विष्णु की थी। दोनों बड़ी भव्य थीं। उसने दोनों को उठाया और अपने घर के एक कमरे की लिपाई की और बड़ी श्रद्धा से इनको दीवार के साथ बिठाया।

यह खबर न केवल सारे गांव में अपितु सारे इलाके में जंगल की आग के समान फैल गई। लोग झुंडों में आने लगे और मूर्तियों को देखते गए। पुलवामा थाने की पुलिस को भी इस गांव के चौकीदार ने संदेश पहुंचाया। पुलिस ने इन मूर्तियों को उठाकर थाने पर लाया।

इन्हीं दिनों टेंगपुना गांव के मंदिर से चोर चंडी माता की मूर्ति उठाकर ले गए थे। जब मूर्ति पाने की खबर वहां के पंडितों ने सुनी, वे दौड़े–भागे आए। पर यह काली माता की मूर्ति उनकी नहीं

थी। यह मूर्ति दसवीं शताब्दी की ठाकुरों द्वारा अपने मंदिर में स्थापित की हुई मूर्ति थी। यह इतनी भव्य थी कि देखने वाला देखता ही रह जाता था। यह उस काल की मूर्ति कला की एक अनमोल कलाकृति थी। ऐसी प्रतिमा आज तक कहीं भी कश्मीर में दिखाई नहीं दी थी।

सौभाग्यवश उन दिनों पुलवामा के डी.सी., श्री विजय बकाया जी थे। टेंगपुना के पंडितों की प्रार्थना स्वीकारते उन्होंने यह मूर्ति उनके हवाले की, क्योंकि उनकी चंडी माता की मूर्ति चोर उठाकर ले गए थे।

टेंगपुना के पंडित लोग फूले न समाए। वे इस भव्य मूर्ति को लेकर गए और एक नया मंदिर इस मूर्ति के लिए बनाया। हजारों पंडित इस मूर्ति के दर्शनों के लिए टेंगपुना आ पहुंचे। यहां एक बड़ा हवन रचाया गया। श्री विजय बकाया जी ने भी इस हवन में भाग लिया और अपने भाव कुसुम अर्पित किए।

1990 की राजनैतिक उत्थल–पुत्थल और अराजकता के कारण वादी के लगभग सभी पंडित लोग भागने लगे। टंगपुना गांव की भी यही दशा थी। सभी भाग निकले, पर अस्त–व्यस्त मानसिक दशा के कारण काली माता को भूल गए। परिणाम स्वरूप तस्कर आए और मूर्ति को उठाकर ले गए। बाद में पता चला कि पुलिस इस मूर्ति को खोज निकालने में सफल हुई, पर अज्ञात कारणों से, रहस्यमय ढंग से, यह भव्य मूर्ति जर्मनी पहुंचा दी गई।

आज से दो बरस पहले, जब हमारे प्रधानमंत्री श्री मोदी जी, जर्मनी गए तो वहां की सुश्री मार्कर अंजला ने, जो वहां की चांस्लर थी, श्री मोदी जी को यही भव्य मूर्ति उपहार में दे दी। ■

आतंकवाद

सजती है बाजार जहां
गोलियों बारूदों की,
कौड़ियों के मोल बिकते
जान–ईमान इंसानों के।
इंसानियत की छांव जहां
खो रही उजालों में,
हो रहा वह राष्ट्र जवां
नकाबों के अंधियारों में।
आतंकी हमलों तले
वीरों ने सर कटा दिए,
मां का आंचल कफ़न बना
अर्थी को पिता का कंधा मिला।
कितनी मांगे उजड़ गईं
घर की दीपक बुझ गया,
मां की गोद सूनी हुई
पिता का सहारा छि गया।
मन की आंखों से देख जरा ऐ आतंकी
कद तेरा कितना छोटा है,
मरी हुई है ज़मीर तुम्हारी
मर गया धर्म–ईमान है।
हर सांसें बद्दुआ दे रहीं
जर्रा–जर्रा तुम्हें कोश रहा,
इन मौतों के सिलसिले को जरा
तू दो पल ठहरकर सोच जरा।
तूने अपनी मासूमियत खोई
तूने खोया अपना ईमान,
इंसानों को मारने वाले कैसे हो सकता है इनसान
ऐ आतंकी सोच जरा।। ■

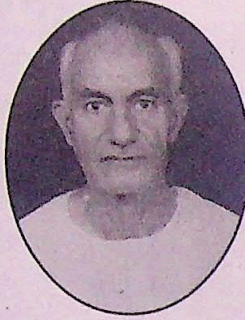
कश्मीर के इतिहास की कथा

(56वीं किस्त)

■ पृथ्वीनाथ भट्ट

सामान्य रूप से सारे बच्चे द्यदी के घर पर इकट्ठे पहुंच गए। उन्होंने शिवरात्रि के नैवेद्य अखरोट द्यदी को पहले ही दे दिए थे जैसा कि कश्मीरी पंडितों की परंपरा रही है। यह नैवेद्य न केवल अपने पड़ोसियों अपितु सारे परिजनों को बांटना अनिवार्य होता है। जब कश्मीर में थे तो श्रीनगर नगर में सारे परिजन प्रायः वहीं रहते थे तो उनको यह प्रसाद दे देना आसान होता था। अब जबकि 1990 ई. विप्लव से सारी कश्मीरी पंडित बिरादरी को अपनी पुण्य, प्यारी जन्मभूमि का त्याग करना पड़ा और जम्मू नगर, दिल्ली, पुणे, मुंबई, लखनऊ आदि भारत के छोटे बड़े नगरों में रोजी रोटी के कारण बिखरना पड़ा। इस कठिन परिस्थिति में कैसे इन परिजनों तक शिवरात्रि का नैवेद्य पहुंचाया जा सकता है। हां, कोरियर द्वारा अतीव निकट के परिजनों को भेजना ही पड़ता है। वहां कश्मीर में देहात गांव में बसने वाले कश्मीरी पंडित दूर दराज़ गांव नगरों में रहने वाले अपने परिजनों को प्रशाद पहुंचाना पड़ता था। इसमें यह लाभ था कि रिश्तेदारों से मेल मिलाप और घनिष्ठ संबंध बना रहता था। एक दूसरे के दुख सुख में बराबर के साझीदार बनकर दुखी परिवार का दुख आपस में बांटा जाता था। यह पलायन के पश्चात धीरे धीरे समाप्त हो रहा है। अब नए पड़ोसियों से संबंध बना है और समाज में आए परिवर्तन से इस नए रिश्ते में भी घनिष्ठता और सौहार्दता पनपी है जो बहुत अच्छी बात है।


द्यदी ने सारे बच्चों का सहर्ष स्वागत किया। बच्चों ने उनके चरणों का स्पर्श किया और ढ़ेर सारे आशीर्वचन प्राप्त किए। यह उनके लिए करोड़ों रूपों से बढ़कर था। क्यों न हो जो उनकी प्यारी द्यदी के मुख कमल से निकले थे। सारे बच्चे अनुशासन से सुंदर कढ़ाईदार गब्बे पर बैठ गए। द्यदी ने परीक्षा से संबंधित जानकारी उनसे प्राप्त की, उनके उत्तर से आश्वस्त होकर वह कश्मीर के इतिहास की कथा सुनाने लगी।

प्यारे बच्चो! पिछली बैठक में मैंने आपको सुनाया था कि राजा चक्रवर्मण को किस तरह डामरों ने रात के समय उसे राजभवन में मार डाला था। उन्होंने इसका बदला लिया और उसका काम तमाम करके अपनी जलन को शांत किया।

उसके मरणोपरांत शर्वट तथा अन्य मूर्ख मंत्रियों ने पार्थ के दुष्ट पुत्र उन्मत्तवंत को कश्मीर के सिंहासन पर बिठाया।

राजा उन्मत्तवंतः (937–39 ई.)– प्यारे बच्चो! कश्मीर की प्रजा के पापों का या राजा के दुष्कर्मों का परिणाम यह रहा कि एक के बाद एक दुष्ट राजा स्वर्गतुल्य कश्मीर का शासक बना जिसने अपनी क्रूरता और अत्याचार से प्रजा को आतंकित किया।

इस राजा के मंत्री गायक, नृत्य करने वाले थे जो राजा को गीत संगीत से भ्रमित करते रहे। इन्हीं ही गायकों में एक पर्वगुप्ता था जो नंगा ही राजदरबार में नाचता था। उसने तांत्रिणों के समय से देश की दुर्दशा देखी थी और अनुभव प्राप्त किया था कि वे और डामर किस तरह राजाओं को अपनी उंगलियों पर नचाते थे और उनका कोष लूटकर खूब मजे करते थे।

पर्वगुप्त को स्वयं कश्मीर का शासक बनने की उत्कट इच्छा थी, अतः उसने राजा उत्तामन्वंत के मुख्यमंत्री सहित अन्य मंत्रियों से सांठगांठ की और आपस में एकजुट हो उन्मत्ताबंत को समाप्त कर शासन हड़पने की सौगंधं खाई। इन मंत्रियों में भूभट्ट, सर्वट, छोजा, कुमुद और अमृतकर ने पर्वगुप्त के साथ साजबाज किया।

प्यारे बच्चो! राजा उन्मत्तावंत के राजकाल में संग्राम नाम डामर के घर रक्क नाम का एक वीर ब्राह्मण रहता था। उसने गवाक्ष नामक सर में श्री अर्थात लक्ष्मी की मूर्ति पाई थी।

राजा ने इस रक्क ब्राह्मण की वीरता एक युद्ध में देखी थी, जब वह एक सिपाही था। राजा उन्मत्तावंत ने इस बलवीर को धीरे धीरे मुख्यमंत्री की पदवी तक पहुंचाया।

पर्वगुप्त ने उस श्री देवी जैसी ही मूर्ति बनाई जो उसने सर में देखी थी और इसका नाम रखजयादेवी रखा। पर्वगुप्त के बहकावे में आने पर राजा उन्मत्तावंत ने अपने ही परिजनों को समाप्त कर दिया क्योंकि पर्वगुप्त स्वयं राजा बनना चाहता था।

प्यारे बच्चो! राजा ने अपने ही पिता पार्थ को पत्नियों आदि समेत राजभवन से खदेड़ दिया था। उसने सपरिवार अब जयेंद्र विहार में आश्रय लिया था जहां भिक्षु भोजन देते थे।

शंकरवर्मण और उसके भाई जो अभी छोटे बच्चे थे और अभी राजभवन में ही रहते थे, उनको बंद रखा और बिना भोजन के दिए वे सारे भूखों मर गए।

राजा ने अपने पिता को मारने का षड़यंत्र रचा। जिन मंत्रियों ने उसे ऐसा करने की स्वीकृति दी, उन्हें पुरस्कार दिया और जिन्होंने अस्वीकृति दी, उनको कारागार में डाल दिया। यह राजा इतना दुष्ट और अत्याचारी था।

प्यारे बच्चो! सुनते हो न? जी द्यदी, हां, ध्यान से कथा सुनते हैं।

द्यदी बोली–एक रात पार्थ के मारने के षडयंत्र पर निर्णय हुआ। मंत्रियों, सरदारों, तांत्रिणों और अन्य अधिकारियों ने जयेंद्र विहार को जिसमें राजा का पिता पत्नियों सहित रहता था, घेर लिया।

कुमुद और अन्य व्यक्तियों ने विहार में घुसकर पार्थ को, जो फटे वस्त्र पहने थे, कम भोजन के कारण कमजोर हुए थे, घसीटकर बाहर निकाला जबकि उसकी पत्नी और बच्चे रोने लगे। बाहर इन दरिंदों ने पार्थ को पत्थरों से मार डाला।

जब राजा उन्मत्तावंत को समाचार दिया गया कि उसके पिता को मारा गया तो वह अगले दिन अपने मंत्रियों सहित पिता के शव को देखने आया। वहां प्रत्येक मंत्री आदि ने राजा को प्रसन्न करने के लिए उसके अंगों पर प्रहार करने का बखान किया।

पर्वगुप्त ने अपने पुत्र देवगुप्त को इशारा किया कि तुम पार्थ के शव में छुरा घोंप दो। उसने ऐसा ही किया। इस कुकृत्य पर राजा खिलखिलाकर कहकहे मारने लगा।

राजा चक्रवर्मण की मृत्यु के पश्चात राजकोष को पहले तांत्रिणों और फ़िर डामरों ने खूब लूटा था। इनके पश्चात अब उन्मत्तावंत के शासनकाल में उस कोष को कायस्थों ने लूटा।

प्यारे बच्चो! राजा ने आचार–विचार, धर्म और सभ्यता को पांव तले रौंदा था, नहीं तो क्या वह पिता का वध करवाता और उसके मारे जाने पर खिलखिलाता? कितना पतन हो गया था कश्मीर के राजा तथा मंत्रियों को और प्रजा को जो ऐसे धर्मभ्रष्ट, कर्मभ्रष्ट और मूर्ख राजाओं को सहन करते थे।

प्यारे बच्चो! उन्मत्तावंत ने अपनी माताओं को जो नंगी थीं और भूख से कंकाल बनी थीं, लातों से मारा। उसने गर्भवती महिलाओं की कोखों को कटवा दिया और उनमें पलते अजात शिशुओ के टुकड़े टुकड़े करवा दिए।

ऐसे भी लालची और गिरे ब्राह्मण उसके शासन काल में थे जो उसके चरणों में गिरकर अग्रहार पाने की दुहाई देते थे।

राजा को अपने कुकृत्यों का फल मिला। वह इतना रोगग्रस्त हुआ कि न केवल प्रजा अपितु उसकी चौदह रानियां भी प्रसन्न हुईं।

राजा उन्मत्तावंत ने अपनी मृत्यु समीप आते देख अपने एक छोटे बालक जिसका नाम शूरवर्मण रखा गया था, अपना उत्तराधिकारी घोषित किया।

इसके कुछ ही समय पश्चात 939 ई. के आषाढ़ मास अमावस्या उस क्रूर राजा का अंत हुआ।

शूरवर्मण द्वितीय (939 ई.)–शूरवर्मण राजा उन्मत्तावंत का पुत्र न था अपितु राजा की दासियों ने कहीं से लाकर उसे राजा का पुत्र घोषित किया था। इसकी राजा को भनक तक न थी। यही पुत्र शूरवर्मण द्वितीय के नाम से 939 ई. में कश्मीर की गद्दी पर बिठाया गया।

यह बालक राजा आषाढ़ शुक्ल सप्तमी को जयखमिन नामक सूर्य मंदिर के दर्शन करने गया। इसी दौरान उन्मत्तावंत का सेनापति जिसे राजा ने माधवराज (मराज) में डामरों को दबाने के लिए भेजा था, राजा के मरने का समाचार सुन पुनर्दिष्टान राजधानी लौटा। वह थका मांदा राजधानी पहुंचा तो एकलंगों, तांत्रिणों, जागीरदारों तथा सिपाहियों ने उसे रोका।

प्यारे बच्चो! एक वीर सेनापति होने के नाते वह और उसके साथ आए हुए डामर, जागीरदारों ने एकलंगों, तांत्रिणों और सैनिकों आदि को परास्त किया और आगे बढ़ते गए। उसने तुरंत राजभवन में प्रवेश किया। जब राजा के सैनिकों ने अन्य सैनिकों की पराजय की सूची पाई तो बालक राजा शूरवर्मण द्वितीय को अकेला छोड़कर भाग गए। बालक को माता अपने साथ ले गई।

कमलवर्धन को बिना खूनखराबे कश्मीर की राजगद्दी मिल गई थी पर मूर्ख ने समय और स्थान की स्थिति को न पहचाना। मूर्ख परामर्शदाताओं के कहने पर वह खाली राजसत्ता हथिया न सका।

वह अपने भवन में गया। रात व्यतीत कर उसे राजा बनने की इच्छा हुई। उसरे सारे ब्राह्मणों की सभी बुलाई।

प्यारे नन्हे–मुन्नो! शूरवर्मण को ब्राह्मणों ने राजा घोषित नहीं किया। ब्राह्मण सभा कई दिनों तक चली, कोई निर्णय नहीं ले सके। उत्पलवंश अब समाप्त हो गया।

एक दिन यशस्कर नामक युवक अकस्मात ब्राह्मण सभा में आया। उसे देखकर ब्राह्मणों ने उसे ही कश्मीर का नया राजा बनाने का निर्णय लिया।

प्यारे बच्चो! उत्पल वंश में केवल राजा अवंतिवर्मण ही सबसे श्रेष्ठ राजा था जिसने कश्मीर मंडल पर अच्छा शासन चलाया, प्रजा के कष्ट दूर किए। उनकी बिगड़ी दशा सुधारी। उन्होंने पूरे मंडल में पशु मारने और खाने पर प्रतिबंध लगाया। अवंतीपुर को अपनी राजधानी बनाया। शेष राजा निकम्मे, अत्याचारी, मूर्ख और चरित्रहीन थे। उनके शासनकाल में कश्मीर और कश्मीरियों का पतन हुआ।

प्यारे लाडलो! उत्पल वंश ने कश्मीर पर 855 ई. से 939 ई. अर्थात कुल 84 वर्ष शासन किया।

राजा उन्मत्तावंत के मरणोपरांत उसके बालक पुत्र शूरवर्मण द्वितीय और उसकी माता के शासन छोड़ने तथा सेनापति कमलवर्धन के हाथ आए राजसिंहासन के अवसर को खोने, उसके द्वारा बुलाए ब्राह्मणों की सभा के कई दिनों के पश्चात किसी निष्कर्ष पर न पहुंचने और अकस्मात वहां से भूतपूर्व राजा शंकरवर्मण के कोषाध्यक्ष प्रभाकरदेव के पुत्र यशस्कर के उस ब्राह्मण सभा के समीप मार्ग से चलने तथा ब्राह्मणों द्वारा उसी यशस्कर को अपनी ब्राह्मण मंडली में बुलाकर उसे बिना पूछे पाछे या उसकी परीक्षा लिए उसे कश्मीर देश का राजा घोषित करने का क्रम एक अनूठी एवं अविश्वसनीय घटना है। यशस्कर का ब्राह्मणों द्वारा नई वेशभूषा तथा हार आदि का प्रबंध कर उसका राज्याभिषेक किया जाना और उसे कश्मीर के सिंहासन पर बिठाना कितना विचित्र लगता है।

प्यारे बच्चो! यह विचित्र घटनाएं उस समय की दुर्दशा तथा विद्वत्ता का खोखलापर प्रमाणित करती हैं। जो भी हो अब नए राजा यशस्कर का वर्णन सुनाती हूं।

राजा यशस्करः (939–948 ई)–राजभवन तक ब्राह्मण सभा उसके साथ थी। ज्यों ही यशस्कर ने राजभवन में प्रवेश किया तो वहां खड़ सैनिकों को उसने आदेश दिया कि वे ब्राह्मणों को अंदर आने न दें और वहीं से भगाएं।

प्यारे बच्चो! द्वारपालों ने ब्राह्मणों को भगाया। इसी बीच यशस्कर ने मुड़कर सारे ब्राह्मणों को हाथ जोड़कर निवेदन किया कि आपने मुझे कश्मीर का राजसिंहासन दिया अब मेरा कर्तव्य आपको देवताओं का नाई सम्मान आदर करना। मुझे कश्मीर का नरेश बनाने के कार्यरूप अब आपको अभिमान हो जाएगा। अतः आज से आप मेरी अनुमति के बिना यहां न आएंगे और न ही राजकार्य में हस्तक्षेप करेंगे। वे समझ गए यहां हमारी दाल गलने वाली नहीं, इसलिए चुपचाप अपनी राह ली।

इसके पश्चात राजा यशस्कर ने शासन को अपने हाथ में लिया और पूरे देश में कड़ाई से आदेशों का पालन करने पर बल दिया। चोरों, चकारों, लुटेरों, तांत्रिणों, डामरों, कायस्थों और मंत्रियों को चेतावनी दी कि जो कोई भी सही रास्ते पर नहीं आएगा उसे कड़ा से कड़ा दंड दिया जाएगा।

चोरी चकारी बंद हुई। डामरों ने फिर खेती का काम किया। तांत्रिण भी वश में हुए। सारी शासन प्रणाली सुचारू रूप से कार्यरत हई। प्रजा खुश हुई और सुख और शांति से रहने लगी।

कश्मीरी कवि रत्न जगद्धर भट्ट

—राजदुलारी कौल, पठानकोट

गतांक से जारी...

जगद्धर भट्ट की भक्तवत्सलता की जितनी तारीफ की जाए वह कम है, पढ़ने वाले भक्तों की आंखों से गंगा यमुना की धारा बहने पर बाध्य होती है। कवि ने पुरारी की भक्ति वर्णन को एक विचित्र रूप दिया है...

(दुग्धाबिध दोऽपि पयसः प्रषतं वृणोषि,
दीपं त्रिधामनयोप्युररी करोषि
वाचाम प्रसूति रपि मुग्ध वचःश्रणोषि,
किम किम करोषि न विनीतजनानुरोधात)

भक्त उपमन्यु को श्रीरसागर तक दे डाला, इतनी शक्ति रखने पर भी पूजन के समय भक्तजनों का वितीर्ण किया हुआ जलकण भी प्रसन्नता से स्वीकार करते हैं। आपका एक नेत्र रवि रूप है, दूसरा सोम रूप है, तीसरा अग्नि रूप है, इस प्रकार तेजोमय पिंडों के प्रभु होकर भी एक छोटे से छोटे भक्त द्वारा किया द्वीप दान भी स्वीकारते हैं। आप ब्राह्नी वाणियों का उत्पति स्थान होने पर भी अपने मुग्ध भक्तों की विनय एवं स्तुति को सुन लेते हैं, क्योंकि आपसे बढ़कर और कोई भक्त वत्सल नहीं हैं। मैंने अब तक चार सौ श्लोकों द्वारा आपकी स्तुती की पर आप मेरी और कोई ध्यान नहीं देते—यह क्यों?

(एका त्वमेव भक्तासि मम प्रपेति,
दंतंवरंस्मरसि चेद गिरिराज पुत्र्याः
प्रेरणा विम्रषि कथमंबर सिंधुमिंदु,
लेखां च मूधिर्न हृदयो दयितां दयांच।।)

आपने पार्वती से यह कहा कि मैं तुम्हारे सिवा किसी और से प्यार नहीं करूंगा, इस प्रतिज्ञा का स्मरण करके आप मेरे प्यार से तुष्ट नहीं हैं? यह बात है तो बताईए, आकाश गंगा और चंद्रकला से आपको इतना प्रेम क्यों? उनको आपने अपनी जटा में स्थान क्यों दिया है? दया को हृदय में क्यों बिठा रखा है? इन तीनों को अपनाते समय आपने अपनी प्रतिज्ञा क्यों तोड़ी है? फिर मैंने ही कौन सा अपराध किया है कि आप मेरी स्तुति का निरादर करते हैं?

(किम भूयसायदि न ते हृदयंगमेव,
सस्यागृहे वससि किम हृदये मदीये।
साधं प्रियेन वसनं तदुप्रेक्षणां च,
दुखःवहम हि मरणादपि माननीनाम।।)

अच्छा और सब बातें जाने दीजिए, एक बात तो बताईए, मेरी वाणी के घर से आप परिचित हैं या नहीं? मेरा हृदय ही उसका घर है न और वहीं उसी के घर में आप चौबीसों घंटे रहते हैं यानि मैंने आपको हृदय में बिठा रखा है, बताईए यह क्यों? जिसके हृदय में आप रहते हैं, उसी की परवाह नहीं करते, आप का यह अन्याय कैसा? जिससे आपको इतनी नफरत, उसी के घर में, उसी के साथ वास? जरा संसार की तरफ आंख उठाकर तो देखिए, माननीय महिलाओं के साथ ही यदि उनका प्रेमी रहे और रहकर भी उनकी उपेक्षा करे तो उनको मृत्यु से भी अधिक दुख होता है या

नहीं? फिर क्यों आप मेरी वाणी को इतना दुख दे रहे हैं? बहुत अच्छा, आपके जी में जो आए वह कीजिए।

(मात:सरस्वति बधान धृतिंस्वदीयां,
विक्षप्तिमातिर्विधुरां विभवे नवेध्य।
देवी शिवा शशिकला गगनापगा च,
कुर्वन्त्यवश्यमबला जन पक्षपातम।।)

मां सरस्वती! अपने आराध्य देव को उपेक्षा करने दे, तू अपनी कारुणिक विक्षिप्ति उन्हें सुनाना बंद न कर, धैर्य न छोड़, भगवती भवानी चंद्रमा की कला और व्योमगंगा वहीं, उनके शरीर पर विराज रही है। वह तीनों स्त्री हैं और स्त्री स्त्री की सहायक होती है, वह कभी कभी तेरी सिफारिश करेंगी, अब नहीं तो तब उन्हें तेरा आदर करना पड़ेगा। तीन तीन नारियों की मदद कभी न कभी सफल हुए बिना नहीं रहेगी।

(एषा विसर्ग कुटिला यदि चंद्रलेखा,
स्वर्गापगा च यदि निस्यतरंगतेयम।
देवीदयाद्र ह्रदया तुनग्रेंद कन्या,
धन्याकरिष्यति न ते निबिडामव भवज्ञाम।।)

हां चंद्रलेखा स्वभाव से कुटिला हैं, स्वर्गगंगा भी प्रपंच और चंचल है और ऐसी नारियों पर विश्वास नहीं किया जाता। कुटिलों और चंचलों का क्या ठिकाना, पर दयार्द ह्रदया पार्वती जी तो वैसी नहीं (पर्वत पुत्री) होने के कारण उनकी क्षमाशीलता पर संदेह नहीं, वह तेरी अवज्ञा नहीं करेगी। अपनी स्तुतिमयी वाणी का इस प्रकार समाधान करके जगद्धर भट्ट फिर अपने स्वामी शंकर से आत्म निवेदन करना आरंभ करता है। स्वामी आप मेरी रक्षा क्यों नहीं करते।

(पापः खलोअहमिति नाहर्सि मां विहातु,
किं रक्षया कृतमतेरकुतो भयस्य।
यस्मादसाधुरधमो अहं पुण्यकर्मा,
तस्मातवास्मि सुतरामनु कम्पनीय।।)

मैं पापी हूं, मैं दुष्कर्मी हूं, क्या यही समझते हुए आप मेरा परित्याग कर रहे हैं?

नहीं ऐसा करना आपको शोभा नहीं देता, क्योंकि भयरहित, सुकृतकारी को रक्षा से क्या प्रायोजन, रक्षा तो पापियों, भयार्तों और खलोंहियों की करनी पड़ती है। मुझ महापापी, महाअधम की करी जाती है, जो स्वयं ही रक्षित है उसकी नहीं की जाती। रक्षा तो अरक्षितों की ही की जाती है। मुझ महापापी, महाअधम, महाअसाधु की रक्षा आप नहीं करेंगे तो फिर करेंगे किसकी? मैं ही तो आपकी दया, आपके द्वारा की गई रक्षा का सबसे अधिक अधिकारी हूं। आप ही कहिए, हूं या नहीं? हां, आप शायद यह कहें किः

(स्वेरेव यद्यिप गतोअहमधः कुकृत्यै,
स्तत्रापि नाथ! न तवास्म्य वलेप पात्रम।
ह्रप्तःपशुः पतति यः स्वयमंधःकूपे,
नोपेक्षते तमपि कारुणिको हिलोकः।।)

मैं अपने पापों से ही पतित हूं तथापि ऐसा होने पर भी मैं आपकी अवज्ञा का पात्र नहीं, आपको मेरा उद्धार करना ही चाहिए। आप तो सर्वसामर्थ महादेव हैं। साधारण दयाशील जन भी पतितपें की उपेक्षा नहीं करते। यदि कोई विवेकहीन पशु स्वयंमेव किसी अंधकूप में गिर जाता है तो कारुणिक मनुष्य उसे भी कूप से निकाल देता है। अतः अपने ही कुकर्मों से पतित मुझ नरपशु पर भी दया करना आपका कर्तव्य है। आप ऐसा नहीं करेंगे तो आप पर पक्षपात का दोष लगेगा। आप अन्यायीं ठहराए जाएंगे क्योंकि आपने मेरे जैसे कई जनों का परित्राण किया है। आपने अपने गले में जिस सांप को लिपटा रखा है, उसके करतूत पर आपने कभी विचार किया है? जैसा वह है वैसा मैं भी हूं।

कश्मीर की आदि संत कवयित्री योगिनी ललद्यद (14वीं शती) निसंदेह संसार की महानतम आध्यात्मिक विभूतियों में से एक थीं, जिसने अपने जीवनकाल में ही परमविभु का मार्ग खोज लिया था और ईश्वर के धाम/प्रकाश स्थान में प्रवेश कर लिया था। वह जीवनमुक्त थी तथा उसके लिए जीवन अपनी सार्थकता एवं मृत्यु अपनी भयंकरता खो चुके थे। उसने ईश्वर से एकनिष्ठ होकर प्रेम किया था और अपने में स्थित

पाया था (खुछुम पंडित पननि गरे)।

ललद्यद को प्रारंभिक शिक्षा-दीक्षा अपने कुल गुरु श्री सिद्धमोल से प्राप्त हुई। सिद्धमोल ने उसे धर्म, दर्शन, ज्ञान और योग संबंधी विभिन्न ज्ञातव्य रहस्यों से अवगत कराया तथा गुरुपद का अपूर्व गौरव प्राप्त कर लिया। अपनी पत्नी में बढ़ती हुई विरक्ति को देखकर एक बार सोनपंडित ने सिद्धमोल से प्रार्थना की कि वे ललद्यद को ऐसी उचित शिक्षा दें जिससे वह सांसारिकता में रुचि लेने लगे। कहते हैं कि सिद्धमोल स्वयं ललद्यद के घर गए। उस समय सोनपंडित भी वहां पर मौजूद थे। इससे पूर्व कि गुरुजी ललद्यद को सांसारिकता का पाठ पढ़ाते, एक गंभीर चर्चा छिड़ गई। चर्चा का विषय थाः 1. सभी प्रकाशों में कौन-सा प्रकाश श्रेष्ठ है, 2. सभी तीर्थों में कौन-सा तीर्थ श्रेष्ठ है, 3. सभी परिजनों में कौन-सा परिजन श्रेष्ठ है और 4. सभी सुखद वस्तुओं में कौन-सी वस्तु श्रेष्ठ है? सर्वप्रथम सोनपंडित ने अपनी मान्यता यों व्यक्त कीः "सूर्य प्रकाश से बढ़कर कोई प्रकाश नहीं है, गंगा के समान कोई तीर्थ श्रेष्ठ नहीं है, भाई के बराबर कोई परिजन नहीं है तथा पत्नी के समान और कोई सुखद वस्तु नहीं है।"

गुरु सिद्धमोल का कहना थाः "नेत्र प्रकाश के समान और कोई प्रकाश नहीं है, घुटनों के समान और कोई तीर्थ नहीं है, जेब के समान कोई परिजन नहीं हैं तथा शारीरिक स्वस्थता के समान और कोई सुखद वस्तु नहीं है।"

योगिनी ललद्यद ने अपने विचार यों रखेः "मैं अर्थात् आत्मज्ञान के समान कोई प्रकाश नहीं है, जिज्ञासा के बराबर कोई तीर्थ नहीं है, भगवान के समान और कोई परिजन नहीं है तथा ईश्वर-भय के समान कोई सुखद वस्तु नहीं है।" ललद्यद का यह सटीक उत्तर सुनकर दोनों सोनपंडित तथा सिद्धमोल अवाक् रह गए।

ललद्यद के समकालीन कश्मीर के प्रसिद्ध सूफी संत शेख नूरुद्दीन वली/नुंद ऋषि ने कवयित्री के बारे में जो उद्गार व्यक्त किए हैं, उनसे बढ़कर उस परम योगिनी के प्रति और क्या भावपूर्ण श्रद्धांजलि हो सकती है? उस पद्मपुर/पंपोर की लला ने दिव्यामृत छक कर पिया, वह थी हमारी अवतार प्रभ, वही वरदान मुझे भी देना।

दरअसल ईश्वर (परम विभू) की प्रतिनिधि बनकर अवतरित हुई और उसके फरमान को जन-जन में प्रचारित कर उसी में चुपचाप मिल गई, जीवन-मरण के लौकिक बंधनों से ऊपर उठकरः मेरे लिए जन्म-मरण हैं एक समान/न मरेगा कोई मेरे लिए/और न ही/मरूंगी मैं किसी के लिए! (न मरेम कांह तॅ न मरॅ कांसि)। ■

विस्थापन की त्रासदी और हिंदी साहित्य पर संगोष्ठी

—महाराज कृष्ण भरत

महाराज कृष्ण शाह

कश्मीर से निष्कासन के लगभग तीन दशक बाद यह ऐसा पहला अवसर था जब देश की किसी राष्ट्रीय साहित्यिक संस्था ने हाशिए पर धकेल दिए गए विस्थापन साहित्य को हिंदी साहित्य की मुख्यधारा में लाकर खड़ा कर दिया। हिंदी साहित्य की विभिन्न धाराओं के साथ विस्थापन साहित्य की नई विधा को जोड़ा, पुष्पित, पल्लवित होने का मार्ग प्रशस्त किया। यूं तो गत वर्षों में क्षेत्रीय (जम्मू कश्मीर राज्य में) तथा राष्ट्रीय स्तर पर कश्मीर से उजड़े हुए रचनाकारों की कविता—कहानियों ने विभिन्न पत्र—पत्रिकाओं में अपना स्थान बनाया। आतंकवाद, विस्थापन की त्रासदी के संदर्भ में कई पुस्तकों का प्रकाशन हुआ, विशेषांक प्रकाशित हुए पर यह ऐसा पहला सराहनीय प्रयास था जब उत्तर प्रदेश हिंदी संस्थान लखनऊ की ओर से 'विस्थापन की त्रासदी और हिंदी साहित्य संदर्भ कश्मीर' नामक विषय पर द्विदिवसीय राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी का आयोजन 7 और 8 मार्च 2018 को लखनऊ स्थित हिंदी भवन के यशपाल सभागार में हुआ।

'कश्मीर और हिंदी साहित्य' विषय पर बीज वक्तव्य देते हुए साहित्यकार डा. शशिशेखर तोषखानी ने कहा कि विस्थापन साहित्य को हिंदी साहित्य की मुख्यधारा के अंग के रूप में स्वीकार किया जाना एक सकारात्मक काम है। डा. तोषखानी ने विस्थापन साहित्य पर विहंगम दृष्टि डालते हुए कहा कि कश्मीर से भटकते भागते जन समुदाय के कवियों लेखकों ने घर छूटने की अपनी व्यथा को साहित्य के माध्यम से लोगों तक पहुंचाने का प्रयत्न किया है। अपने लेखन में उन्होंने स्थिति की भयावह वास्तविकता से उत्पन्न अस्तित्व एवं अस्मिता की आधारभूत चिंताओं की ओर अपनी मिट्टी से उखड़ने के दर्द को व्यक्त करने का प्रयास किया है। इस प्रक्रिया से साहित्य की एक नई विधा अस्तित्व में आई जिसे विस्थापन साहित्य का नाम दिया गया। इस विधा के बारे में भारतीय भाषाओं के साहित्य में अब तक न कुछ कहा गया था न कुछ सुना गया था। पर हिंदी व अरबी में तथा अनेक यूरोपीय भाषाओं में इतिहास की क्रूरताओं के कारण उन जनसमूहों के विस्थापन पर रचित इतिहास की अपनी एक अलग पहचान बन चुकी है। जहां तक भारतीय भाषाओं का संबंध है यह माननीय अनुभवों का एक नया धरातल था जिसे कश्मीर के विस्थापित लेखकों ने पहली

तथाकथित उदारवादी कहे जाने वाले बुद्धिजीवियों पर कटाक्ष करते हुए डा. तोषखानी ने कहा कि इस वर्ग में विस्थापितों के विरुद्ध चुप्पी का षड़यंत्र रचा। हमारे विस्थापित रचनाकारों ने अभिव्यक्ति के सभी खतरे उठाते हुए कश्मीरी हिंदी, अंग्रेजी, उर्दू, डोगरल तथा पंजाबी में भी आतंकवाद के विरुद्ध एक हस्तक्षेप के रूप में लिखना प्रारंभ किया। विस्थापन के इतिहास और साहित्य की उन्होंने सारगर्भित जानकारी दी तथा विशेषकर विस्थापन काव्य के कई मार्मिक उद्धरण भी प्रस्तुत किए। उन्होंने कहा डा. क्षमा कौल की कविता 'कथा एक तिथि की' व्यंग्य और विद्रुप की तिक्त भाषा में व्यक्त कविता है जबकि डा. रतनलाल शांत ने अपने कविता संग्रह 'कविता अभी भी' में तन के विस्थापन और मन के निर्वासन की कविताएं लिखीं। फिरन में छिपाए तिरंगा के कवि महाराज कृष्ण भरत ने राष्ट्र और राष्ट्रीयता की अपनी अवधारणाओं के अनुसार कविताएं लिखीं। दिलीप कौल की कविता ''शहीद गिरिजा रैणा का पोस्टमार्टम'' मर्माहत कर देने वाली है। आत्म–अनुभव की भूमि से लिखी महाराज शाह की कविताओं में नास्ट्रैलजिया का उद्दाम ज्वार है जो कश्मीर की मिट्टी से उनके भावात्मक संबंधों की गहराई की ओर संकेत करता है। कवयित्री शामा की कविताओं में कश्मीर की प्राकृतिक सुषमा और लावण्य को स्वाभाविक रूप से स्थान मिला है। डा. तोषखानी ने बल देकर कहा कि निर्वासन की कविताओं में दुख को इकट्ठा करके एक शक्ति के रूप में प्रयोग करने की प्रवृत्ति है।

डा. सदानन्द प्रसाद गुप्त

इस राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी का प्रारंभ दीप प्रज्ज्वलन के बाद मां सरस्वती की प्रतिमा पर पुष्पांजलि से हुआ। श्रीमती पूनम श्रीवास्तव ने वाणी वंदना प्रस्तुत की। मंच का संचालन संस्थान की साहित्य भारतीय पत्रिका की संपादक डा. अनिता दुबे ने किया। मंच पर उत्तर प्रदेश हिंदी संस्था के कार्यकारी अध्यक्ष डा. सदानंद गुप्त, मुख्य अतिथि एवं वरिष्ठ कथाकार चंद्रकांता, वरिष्ठ साहित्यकार डा. शशिशेखर तोषखानी तथा उ.प्र. हिंदी संस्थान के निदेशक शिशिर भी थे। डा. शिशिर ने संस्थान की ओर से आमंत्रित सभी रचनाकारों का उत्तरीय प्रदान कर स्वागत किया जिसमें डा. सदानंद गुप्त ने भी कुछ रचनाकारों का स्वागत किया।

डा. अग्निशेखर

इस राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी में भाग लेने के लिए विस्थापित रचनाकारों में से जहां जम्मू से डा. अग्निशेखर, डा. क्षमा कौल, डा. संजना कौल, महाराज कृष्ण संतोषी तथा डा. महाराज कृष्ण भरत ने भाग लिया वहीं दिल्ली से डा. शशिशेखर तोषखानी, श्रीमती चंद्रकांता, श्री महाराज कृष्ण शाह, दिलीप कौल

चंद्रकांता

शिशर जी

तथा वरिष्ठ विचारक श्री सुशील कुमार पंडित सम्मिलित हुए। साथ ही हिमाचल प्रदेश केंद्रीय विश्वविद्यालय धर्मशाला के कुलपति डा. कुलदीप अग्निहोत्री, पटना से साहित्यकार डा. कलानाथ मिश्र व राष्ट्रचिंतक हरेंद्र प्रताप पाण्डेय, कुशीनगर से शाधार्थी डा. अमित कुमार भार्गव, लखनऊ से ही सुप्रसिद्ध कथाकार डा. सुधाकर अदीब, श्रीमती आशा राजदान ने भी विभिन्न सत्रों में अपने विचार व्यक्ति किए तथा साहित्यिक चर्चा में भाग लिया।

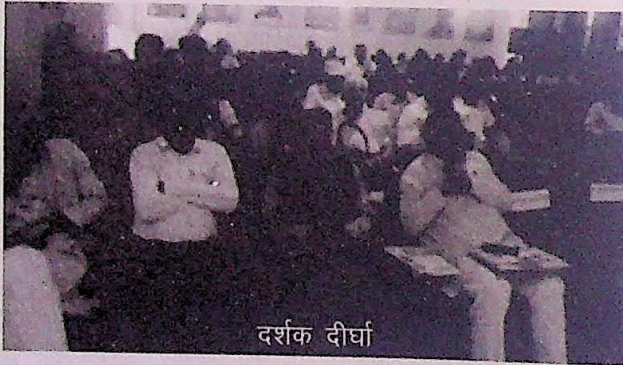
राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी में कुल चार सत्र हुए। पहले सत्र (उद्घाटन सत्र) में कश्मीर और हिंदी साहित्य विषय पर उद्बोधन देते हुए सुप्रसिद्ध कथाकार श्रीमती चंद्रकांता ने हिंदी साहित्य में कश्मीर के इतिहास को खोजने का प्रयास किया। उन्होंने कहा कि हमें जयशंकर प्रसाद की 'कामायनी' में कश्मीरी शैव दर्शन का प्रभाव दिखता है। वहां भक्ति,

दर्शक दीर्घा

ज्ञान और इच्छा का समन्वित रूप है जो समरसता पैदा करता है तभी जीवन में आनंद की अनुभूति उत्पन्न होती है। कथाकार चंद्रकांता ने कश्मीर की सम्राज्ञी कोटारानी पर डा. शत्रुघ्न प्रसाद के उपन्यास 'कश्मीर की बेटी' तथा पंडित कल्हण पर कृष्ण भावुक द्वारा रचे गए 'हदा दर्पण' पर प्रकाश डाला। गुरु तेग बहादुर के अमर बलिदान से जुड़े उपन्यास 'काके लागों पांव' पर भी उन्होंने चर्चा की। उन्होंने कहा कि कश्मीर के इतिहास को दृष्टि में रखते हुए कई साहित्यकारों ने रचनाएं लिखीं। अंत में उन्होंने विस्थापित रचनाकारों की रचनाओं पर भी अपने विचार व्यक्त किए। क्षमा कौल के 'दर्दपुर', संजना कौल के पाषाण युग और स्वयं लेखिका द्वारा रचित कथा सतिसर का भी विशेष उल्लेख हुआ।

सुधाकर अदीब

भोजनावकाश के बाद यशपाल सभागार में ही राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी का द्वितीय सत्र प्रारंभ हुआ जिसकी अध्यक्षता डा. कुलदीप अग्निहोत्री ने की। वरिष्ठ विचारक श्री हरेंद्रप्रताप पाण्डेय भारत में विस्थापन के इतिहास की बात करते हुए धार प्रांत, कन्नौज, संथाल, बोडो के विस्थापन की चर्चा की और मारीशस ले जाए गए गिरगिटया मजदूरों को भारत का चौथा विस्थापन कहा। यह लोग अधिकांशतः भोजपुरी थे। उन्होंने जम्मू कश्मीर में घाटी से हुए विस्थापन की त्रासदी को दर्दनाक बताया। उन्होंने इस विस्थापन को आतंकवाद की बर्बरता कहा और सरकार को इसके प्रति चेताया।

'कश्मीर अतीत एवं वर्तमान' विषय पर अपना वक्तव्य देते हुए महाराज कृष्ण संतोषी ने कहा कि जहां कश्मीर में अल्पसंख्यक रचनाकार ऐसे किस्से कहानियां ढूंढ़ रहे थे जो बहुसंख्यक लोगों के कोप का विषय न बनें ताकि विस्थापन के बाद कश्मीर के रचनाकारों में अभिव्यक्ति का साहस लौट आया। डा. तोषखानी के कविता संग्रह 'थोड़ा सा आकाश' की निम्न कविता को कवि संतोषी ने उद्धृत किया–


"आकाश में सुराख करने वाले नारों
और बदन में छेद कर देने वाली गोलियों के
बीच जिंदा रहा हूं मैं
पूरी सभ्यता के साथ
यही मेरी संघर्ष गाथा है।"

प्रसिद्ध कथाकार डा. क्षमा कौल ने अपने उद्‌बोधन में भारत के साथ कश्मीर की सांस्कृतिक, ऐतिहासिक और भावनात्मक पहलुओं पर विचार करते हुए 'राजतरंगिणी' और 'नीलमतपुराण' के संदर्भ सामने रखे। उन्होंने इतिहास के उन घातक क्षणों का भी उल्लेख किया जब कश्मीर में राजा हर्ष के समय विदेशी तुर्कों ने एक षडयंत्र रचकर कश्मीर की हिंदू सेना में विशिष्ट जगह बनाई।

हिंदी के वरिष्ठ कवि एवं लेखक डा. अग्निशेखर ने भारत की इतिहास दृष्टि पर बात की। उन्होंने कहा कि यहां पर अंग्रेजों, मध्य एशिया से आए लोगों तथा मार्क्सवादी विचारदृष्टि का इतिहास लिखा गया। यह विचारधारा भारत की दृष्टि नहीं है, तो भारत की अपनी दृष्टि क्या है? उन्होंने इस बात पर खेद जताया कि 1990 से पूर्व जब विस्थापन नहीं हुआ था तब वामपंथी विचारधारा के लेखक हमें अपना मानते थे और विस्थापन के बाद इन सबने हमसे किनारा कर लिया।

सुशील पंडित

कश्मीर के विचारक सुशील कुमार पंडित ने कश्मीर के विस्थापन की चर्चा करते हुए कहा कि जो आश्वासन दिनकर के तेज में तथा मैथिलीशरण गुप्त की कविता में था वह कहां है। कश्मीर में रह रहे कश्मीरी पंडितों को यह लगता था कि वहां राज्य के सचिवालय पर तिरंगा लहरा रहा है, छावनियों में सेना है, तो हमारा कोई भी बाल बांका नहीं कर सकता। सामने इतने विशाल देश के लोग हैं, संसद है। श्री पंडित ने अल्पसंख्यकों के मनों में देश के उस विश्वास को संबोधित करते हुए कहा कि कुछ भ्रम बड़े महंगे पड़ते हैं। यह भ्रम भी उनमें से एक था। उन्होंने प्रश्न उजागर करते हुए कहा कि क्या इसे भ्रम मानना उचित था। उन्होंने प्रश्न उजागर करते हुए कहा कि क्या मेरे इसे भ्रम मानना उचित था, क्या भ्रम मानकर उसकी तिलांजलि दें? इस प्रश्न का उत्तर आना अभी शेष है।

द्वितीय सत्र के अध्यक्षीय उद्‌बोधन में डा. कुलदीप अग्निहोत्री ने सांस्कृतिक राष्ट्रवाद की बात करते हुए कहा कि जब भी भारत में सांस्कृतिक राष्ट्रवाद की चर्चा होती है, तो बात जम्मू द्वीप से शुरू होती है। दुर्भाग्य से किसी ने बाद में जम्मू द्वीप को परिभाषित करने की कोशिश नहीं की। ऐसा माना जाता है कि जो मेरू पर्वत था, वह जम्मू द्वीप के मध्य में स्थित था इसीलिए सागर मंथन में मेरु पहाड़ की बात आती है। उन्होंने कहा कि मध्य एशिया और पूरा क्षेत्र जम्मू द्वीप के अंतर्गत आता था और यह एक सांस्कृतिक इकाई थी।

डात्र अग्निहोत्री ने कश्मीर के तब और अब के इतिहास पर भी पैनी दृष्टि डाली और कहा कि यदि रिंचन सचमुच मुसलमान बन गया होता तो वह कोटारानी को भी बलात् इस्लाम में मतांतरित करता, उसे तो केवल शाहमीर जैसे लोगों की सहायता चाहिए थी जिस कारण उसने अपने को मुसलमान कहा होगा। उन्होंने इतिहास के पुनर्मूल्यांकन पर बल दिया। पटना से आए साहित्यकार डा. कलानाथ मिश्र ने मंच का संचालन किया।

तीसरे सत्र की कार्यवाही हिंदी भवन के निराला सभागार में हुई। यह सत्र गद्य रचना पाठ को समर्पित था। इस सत्र में डा. संजना कौल 'कतरन अखबार की', महाराज कृष्ण शाह ने 'मानस रोग', महाराज कृष्ण संतोषी ने "दारा सिकोह का मौत"

तथा डा. क्षमा कौल के "गर्भगृह" शीर्षक से बड़े कैनवास की कहानियां पढ़ीं वहीं मुख्य अतिथि चंद्रकांता ने 'आवाज' तथा सत्र अध्यक्ष डा. सुधाकर अदीब ने 'जबाब--तलब' शीर्षक कहानी का पाठ किया। इस सत्र का संचालन डा. अमिता दुबे ने किया। प्रारंभ में आलेख पाठ करते हुए कुशीनगर से आए डा. अमित कुमार भार्गव ने विस्थापन कथा साहित्य पर विहंगम दृष्टि डाली। उन्होंने अपने आलेख में दर्दपुर, पाषाण युग और कथा सतिसर की पर विशेष बल दिया। उ.प्र. हिंदी संस्थान के निदेशक ने स्वागत भाषण दिया।

दो दिवसीय राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी सत्र में काव्य पाठ का आयोजन किया गया जिसकी अध्यक्षता उ.प्र. हिंदी संस्थान के कार्यकारी अध्यक्ष डा. सदानंद प्रसाद गुप्त ने की। संस्थान के निदेशक शिशिर ने धन्यवाद ज्ञापन किया और मंच का संचालन डा. अमिता दुबे और कवि दिलीप कुमार कौल ने किया। मुख्य अतिथि के रूप में कवि अग्निशेखर ने कविता पाठ किया। उनकी कविता का एक अंश–

उफ यह जीवन हमारा/तनिक तनिक सरकता
अजगर के मुंह में निगले जाते
पशु की लाचार पूंछ सा।

आभा राजदान की कविता का अंश था–

जहां की फिजाएं/कभी केसर से महका करतीं
वहां की मिट्टी में अपनापन था
आज कश्मीर की फिजाओं में
केसर नहीं महकती/त्रासद की बू आती है
फिर भी मुझे यकीन है/केसर फिर से महकेगी।

डा. तोषखानी ने कविता पढ़ी–

हम सब पीड़ा की वर्णमाला के
बिखरे हुए अक्षर हैं
पढ़ लो हमें
हम शब्द बनने की प्रक्रिया में हैं।

कविता पाठ की शुरुआत करते हुए कवि महाराज कृष्ण भरत ने 'निष्कासन दिवस', 'नाड़ीमर्ग के गूंगे लोग', इतिहास आदि की कविताएं पढ़ीं। कवि भरत की कविता के कुछ अंश निम्न हैं–

इतिहास लेखन के लिए
आओ।
शहीदों की तिथियों से
अपने माथे पर तिलक करें
जलावतनी का लिबास उतार फेंकें
हम लिख दें
चिनार के पेड़ों पर
अपनी वापसी का इतिहास।

कवि दिलीप कौल ने 'शस्त्र दर्शन' और 'गणपतयार मंदिर और कवि' कविताओं का पाठ किया। कवितांश निम्न हैं–

इस नए पूजा शास्त्र से उलझते हुए
मेरा लरजता हुआ वजूद
शस्त्र और शास्त्र की नैतिकता के बीच
सुनता है
बदलती हुई सरहदों का स्तुति गीत।

इस प्रकार से 8 मार्च, 2018 को लखनऊ में उत्तर प्रदेश हिंदी संस्थान द्वारा आयोजित दो दिवसीय राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी संपन्न हुई। यहां के साहित्य प्रेमियों ने विस्थापित रचनाकारों की कविता कहानियों को सराहा और एक नई साहित्यिक धारा का रसास्वादन किया। इस आयोजन का श्रेय संस्थान के कार्यकारी अध्यक्ष डा. सदानंद गुप्त और उनके नेतृत्व में संस्थान के अधिकारियों को जाता है। डा. अमिता गुप्ता जो सतत् संगोष्ठी से पूर्व रचनाकारों के सतत् संपर्क में रहीं, उनके उल्लेखनीय योगदान प्रशंसनीय हैं। शीघ्र ही उनके संपादन में विस्थापन साहित्य पर केंद्रित विशेषांक भी प्रकाशित होने जा रहा है। ■

आत्मनेपद-18 रतनलाल शान्त

राज : प्रेरणा और प्रकृति

क्रमशः 'आत्मनेपद--17' सेः

- रचना यात्रा में रोजगार की ऊहापोह केवल उत्प्रेरक (कैटेलिस्ट) हो तो हो, वास्तविक प्रेरणाएं अलग आभ्यन्तर कारणों से मिलती हैं, जिनका विकास मानसिक तथा आत्मिक (आध्यात्मिक नहीं) प्रक्रियाओं से होता है...
- मुझे लगता है कि उस समय के समूचे साहित्यिक वातावरण को देखें तो दो धाराएं स्पष्टतः मौजूद थीं और दोनों किसी राजनीतिक/अर्धराजनीतिक चौकी पर खड़ी और सचेष्ठ थीं।...
- इलाहाबाद में हिंदी लेखन और प्रकाशन से संपर्क स्थापित होने का एक परिणाम मेरे सचेत मन में इस रूप में मौजूद रहा था कि मैं समकालीन आधुनिकता (वादी) सोच में ही सर्जन की तुष्टि अनुभव करने लगा था...
- कश्मीर हिंदी साहित्य सम्मेलन ने 1960–61 में (कश्यप) पत्रिका निकालने का स्वप्न पूरा किया, प्रो. काशीनाथ दर के संपादकत्व में। पत्रिका छोटी थी (30–40 पृष्ठों की) पर इसके पीछे एक दृष्टि थी, अनुभव था तथा सबसे बढ़कर आधुनिक समकालीन (मुख्यभूमि के) लेखन–प्रकाशन के बराबर आने की ललक थी...

जैसे गतांक में उल्लेख किया गया, 1960--70 के दशक में मेरे जीवन में तीन बड़ी घटनाएं हुईं जिनका प्रत्यक्ष या परोक्ष प्रभाव मेरी रचना पर पड़ा होगा। इनमें मेरा विवाह एक प्रमुख भौतिक तथा आत्मिक घटना थी।

एक आम विश्वास है कि हर (स्त्री या पुरुष) व्यक्तित्व के पीछे किसी पुरुष या स्त्री व्यक्तित्व की प्रेरणा होती है। पुरुषों से ज्यादा स्त्रियों को रचना या प्रगति के लिए प्रेरणा मानकर सवाल भी पूछे जाते हैं। पुरुष अपने पीछे ऐसी प्रेरणा या प्रभाव की उपस्थिति मान ही लेते हैं। निस्संदेह स्त्री के व्यक्तित्व में चीजें संभालने, सुरक्षित रखने, बढ़ाने, विकसित और रचना करने के सहज गुण होते हैं। पर यह भी सत्य है कि अधिकांश स्त्रियों में ये स्वाभाविक गुण अनुकूल परिवेश न पाकर कम होते होते सूख जाते हैं और विवाह के बाद अपना शत प्रतिशत पति या परिवार को दे नहीं पातीं। यह मानना पड़ेगा कि आज की तेज बदलती दुनिया में भी हमारी महिलाएं पूर्ण विकास की समतल भूमि (सहभागी पुरुष कलात्मक या सृजनात्मक प्रवृत्ति का हुआ तो

उसकी 'उन्नत्ति' के लिए वह कितनी 'रचनात्मक प्रेरणा' बन सकती है? मेरा मतलब यह नहीं कि जब वह स्वयं वैसी ही प्रवृत्ति की हो, उतनी ही 'उन्नत' अथवा 'विकसित' हो तो ही अपने साथी पुरुष के लिए सही रचनात्मक प्रेरणा बन सकती है, वरना नहीं। मगर यह जरूर कहा जा सकता है कि शांतिपूर्ण दांपत्य के लिए (जिसके लिए एक दूसरे की ईडियोसिनक्रेसीज़ को झेलने की आदत डालना जरूरी होता है) सोच, प्रवृत्ति, दृष्टिकोण, आदतों या औपचारिकताओं–रस्मों) की कुछ समानता चाहिए ही होती है। रचना के लिए थोड़ी बहुत शांति चाहिए, इससे इनकार नहीं किया जा सकता।

मेरे पाठक समझ गए होंगे कि यह भूमिका बांधकर मैं अपनी पत्नी राज के बारे में कुछ कहना चाहता हूं, जो मेरी रचनायात्रा के प्रसंग में महत्वपूर्ण है। राज, जो मुझसे तीन वर्ष और पांच दिन बाद बाना मुहल्ला में जन्मीं, वहां से केवल एक या डेढ़ मील की दूरी पर (बडियार बाला में) मेरे घर आकर इसे इतना बदल देंगी, आज यह सब सोचकर हैरान भी होता हूं और अच्छा भी लगता है। मुझे कितना बदला, उसका विश्लेषण ही प्रस्तुत लेख श्रृंखला में है, ऐसा कहूं तो कोई अतिश्योक्ति नहीं होगी। (बदलने की यह प्रक्रिया घोषित, घटनापूर्ण या झकझोर देने वाली नहीं थी, खल्प और स्वाभाविक थी अतः इसे परिभाषित करना मुश्किल है।) ससुराल के एकदम भिन्न माहौल तथा परिपाटियों में वह इतना रच–बस गईं कि राज के द्वारा चलने वाली आंतरिक परिवर्तन प्रक्रिया किसी ने महसूस नहीं की, परंतु घर ने एक कालावधि में खुद को बिलकुल बदला हुआ पाया। यह और ज्ञात है कि हम में इस बदलाव को बताने की जुर्रत नहीं होती है कि एक प्रभावी सदस्य के आने से क्रिया प्रतिक्रिया का पहिया कितने और किस दिशा में चल पड़ा है।

राज घर की पहली संतान होने के कारण दादाजी की लाडली थी। उन्हें बचपन से ही संकोचहीन, खुलेमन की तथा भरे पूरे सम्मिलित परिवार में निर्व्याज रहने की प्रत्यक्ष परोक्ष सीख 'रत्ना' को (दादा इसी नाम से पुकारते थे और फिर यही नाम स्कूल में दर्ज कराया गया) दादा का व्यापार पिता और मंझले चाचा ने संभाला और मुहल्ले से निकालकर हरिसिंह हाई स्ट्रीट में स्थापित किया था। छोटे चाचा राज से सिर्फ 3 साल बड़े थे। छोटी बुआ 6 वर्ष। दोनों की मां (राज की दादी) जवानी में ही चल बसीं, जब राज की मां इस घर में नई बहू के रूप में आईं थीं। इन दोनों भाई बहन को नई बहू की गोदी में डाल दिया गया। चाचा ने उनकी छाती से दूध भी पिया। अतः राज के लिए दोनों सगे भाई बहन से थे, जो रिश्ता दोनों ओर से बिना किसी लाग लपेट के निभाया गया। यों भी उस भरे पूरे

परिवार में चचेरे फुफेरे या मुमेरे भाई बहनों के बीच सगों से ज्यादा करीबी संबंध देखकर मैं हैरान भी होता था और राज को वैसे ही संबंध हमारे घर में भी स्थापित पोषित करते देखकर संतोष और गर्व का अनुभव भी करता था। आज यदि करता हूं तो लगता है कि राज को व्यक्तित्व में कुछ जरूर होगा जो हमेशा, हर समाज में तथा हर जीवन स्थिति में मिलने वालों को आकर्षित करता रहा है। राज प्रकृति से स्वभाविक है। समूह में रमना, समूह को निजीपन तथा स्नेह में बांधकर चलना, दूरियों को बलात् पाटना, विसंगतियां भुलाकर संगति को सहेजना राज की शिक्षा दीक्षा में शुरू से ही कुछ ऐसे प्रेरणा तत्व रहे हैं कि शुरू में ही स्कूलकालीन बालसुलभ कविता–कहानियों में तथा पाठ्यक्रम से बाहर की गतिविधियों में रुचि भी रही है और कुछ उपलब्धियां भी। उसके कुछ अध्यापाक, अध्यापिकाएं मुझे मिली हैं जिन्होंने मुझसे जिक्र किया है। कक्षा में तेज तो थी ही पर कक्षा से बाहर जब भी किसी तरह की शैक्षिक अथवा गैर–शैक्षिक कार्य में भाग लिया, प्रशंसा ही पाई। प्रभा उग्रा ही आयु में रुचि संपन्न और सर्जनशील अथवा रचनात्मक भावबोध वाले अध्यापक का होना भाग्यशाली विद्यार्थियों की जिंदगी में महत्वपूर्ण होता है। राज को कश्मीर की एक नामधन्य हस्ती दीनानाथ नादिम का गुरुत्व तथा निदेर्शन मिला, यह किस्मत की बात है जो वे हमेशा याद करती रहती हैं। नादिम उनके (हिंदू एजुकेशन सोसाइटी वाले) स्कूल (पहले पुरुषयार तथा बाद में "नन्हीं के स्कूल" कींक्राल मुहल्ला श्रीनगर के प्रिंसिपल थे। अन्य अध्यापकों में लेखक ओमकार काचरू और निर्मला पेशिन भी थे, जिनकी साहित्यिक सांस्कृतिक प्रवृत्ति 'नादिम' की देखरेख में विकसित हुई थी। राज याद करती हैं कि स्कूल में कैसे कार्यक्रम कराए जाते थे जिनमें रूझान वाली छात्राएं भी प्रशंसित प्रोत्साहित हो जाया करती थीं। नादिम उस समय न केवल योग्य अध्यापक के रूप में बल्कि कश्मीरी साहित्य में नए चिंतन, शैली विकास तथा आधुनिक भावबोध के प्रतिपादक के रूप में सरकारी और गैर सरकारी क्षेत्रों में ख्याति प्राप्त कर चुके थे। बाद में वे राज्य की विधान परिषद में अध्यापकों की कांस्यूएंसी से सदस्य भी चुने गए। वे प्रदेश के जाने माने साम्यवादी विचारक तो थे ही, कश्मीर की जातीय संस्कृति के भी बहुत समर्थक थे। राज तो स्कूल के बाद कालेज और युनिवर्सिटी में चली गईं। गुरू से दूरी हो गई पर मुझे याद है कि वर्षों बाद एक दिन नादिम साहब ने एक साहित्यिक कार्यक्रम के अवसर पर अलग से मुझसे कहा कि 'रत्ना' उनकी होनहार शिष्या थी...
